SCIENTISTS COMING TO THIS COUNTRY

More Than 400 Now Crossing Atlantic For British Association Meeting

Sessions in Toronto; Welcome in Quebec and Montreal

Toronto, July 29.—More than 400 of the world's most eminent scientists are at present on the Atlantic ocean, having left England on Saturday morning to be present in Toronto for the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science from August 1 to 13. The Caronia, which will dock in Quebec Saturday, has on board more than 200 of the delegates. The White Star liner Megantic is carrying sixty more and the remainder are on the Melita, the Montrose, and the Montaurier.

Preparations have been completed in both Quebec and Montreal for the entertainment of the scientists. Many of them will spend Saturday in Quebec and on Sunday will be the guests of Lord Atholstan at his estate a short distance from Montreal. Visits to the harbor and to the McGill University have also been arranged.

ON SPECIAL TRAIN

A special train will leave Montreal on Monday night and arrive in Toronto Tuesday morning with the majority of the scientists. The train will be a day in Ottawa and proceed to Toronto the following day.

Six undergraduates of English universities chosen for their interest in scientific experiments are accompanying the delegates to this country. Major-General Sir David Bruce, president of the association and a famous parasitologist, will arrive at Quebec on Thursday, August 7.

NO MOVE TO UPSET VANCOUVER'S POLL UNTIL END OF YEAR

Petition to Overthrow Election Will Have to Wait House Adjournment

Cannot be Heard While Legislature is in Session, Law Inspection Shows

Any action to upset the Vancouver election before the beginning of next year at the earliest apparently is out of the question now as a result of the developments of the last few weeks.

A careful examination of the law governing election protests shows that Vancouver Conservatives who are dissatisfied with the election can make no move to bring about a new poll until fifteen days after the close of the next session of the Legislature. Under the governing statute no petition to an election can be heard during a session of the Legislature or within fifteen days before the opening of a session or within fifteen days after adjournment.

The Legislature will meet early in the Fall and the final count of ballots in Vancouver is not expected to be over until some time in September. Politicians here see no chance of a petition for a new election being heard until after the session. If it occupies the usual time, it may easily occupy more than the usual time, the session will not be over much before the end of the year. This would make it impossible for a petition against the election to be heard until early in 1925.

On the other hand there can be no recount before a county court judge in the Vancouver election unless the present final count makes marked changes in the standing of candidates. Recounts before a judge are not provided for in the election act unless the time has been more than fifty votes, and all the Vancouver candidates apparently have a larger margin than that.

The Legislature, generally overlooked by politicians, apparently remove any possibility of Vancouver's representation in the Legislature being changed before the 1925 session. (Concluded on page 2.)

FIFTY FAMILIES OF EAST COAST OF SCOTLAND CHOSEN AS NUCLEUS OF BARKLEY SOUND FISHING TOWN

Special to The Times

Montreal, July 29.—An immigration scheme whereby whole families who have been engaged at fishing for generations will be brought from the east coast of Scotland to Vancouver Island, where a model village is being constructed, was explained by Capt. I. J. Vince on his return to Canada after a visit to Scotland, where all the necessary arrangements were made.

Under this plan it is claimed hardworking and industrious people, skilled fishermen and fish-curers, will be given an opportunity to leave Scotland, where adverse trade conditions and a succession of bad seasons have brought them to poverty, and come to Canada, where, working under conditions very similar to those to which they have been accustomed they will be able to live a prosperous and fruitful life.

"We are bringing fifty fishing families back to the west coast of Vancouver Island," said Capt. Vince on his arrival in Montreal yesterday en route to the British Columbia coast. "At Sarita, on Barkley Sound, we have constructed a model village for them, all the houses of which contain from four to five rooms with every modern convenience. At first the fishing will be herring and salmon. Later we hope to develop cod and other fishing. Because we intend to do our curing ourselves we arranged for the whole families to come out, as the Scotch lassies are fish-curers."

"Already we can sell Chinla all the salted herring we can handle, so we have an assured trade there."

Capt. Vince explained that while making arrangements in Scotland he had met Hon. James Macdonald, who was an old friend of his, at the Prime Minister's residence in Leinster, from where he was coming. The Premier took great interest in the scheme and together with his son made several suggestions for improvements and was instrumental in getting Capt. Vince into touch with Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, the Colonial Secretary, and several prominent officials. Among these were Mr. McNaughton, of the Overseas Settlement Board, and Mr. Wade, Agent-General of British Columbia, and with their help the scheme was put forward as a model for these people who are coming out.

PROTESTS AGAINST RATE CHAOS POUR IN ON RAIL BOARD

Commissioners to Fix Date For Hearing of All Western Representations

Oliver Plans to File B.C.'s Applications For Reductions Immediately

Protests against the topsyturvy railway rate situation which exists in western Canada now as a result of the restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement are pouring in upon the Railway Board and arrangements are being made by officials of the board to conduct a general inquiry into all these representations shortly. This is the substance of a telegram received by Premier Oliver today from the Railway Board secretary in reply to the request of the Provincial Government that a date be set for hearing British Columbia's three detailed applications for rate reductions.

While waiting for the board to fix a definite date for this hearing the Government will file its application immediately. Mr. Oliver stated, following the receipt of advice from Ottawa, it is understood that formal applications will be forwarded to the board within the next day or two.

The protests received by the Railway Board are based on two sources of dissatisfaction. The Premier is informed in his wire from the board's secretary. In the first place, it is argued that the Crow's Nest Rates should apply to freight moving from British Columbia eastward as well as on westward-moving freight—an argument which is one of the chief points in Mr. Oliver's rate fight.

In the second place, it is asserted that the Crow's Nest rates, if they are in force at all, should apply to all railway lines in western Canada. At present the Canadian Pacific Railway, it is explained, is making the rates apply only on those lines which were in existence in 1897 when the Crow's Nest Agreement was originally put into effect. As a result, the low rates do not obtain on many important lines, particularly those on the prairies north of the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Consequently the whole freight tariff in the West is hopelessly confused the Railway Board has been informed by many western interests. This is the contention of the Crow's Nest Agreement is perfectly preposterous and impossible.

"In fact, Mr. Oliver said today in discussing the matter, 'the situation as a result of the restoration of the Crow's Nest Agreement is perfectly preposterous and impossible.'"

The party reached Vancouver on the steamship Lady Alexandra last evening.

Ottawa, July 29.—(Canadian Press)—Important decisions will lie before the Cabinet when after a holiday of a fortnight it meets again on Tuesday next. First will come the question of Cabinet reorganization, which in some measure, at any rate, is regarded in political circles as inevitable, although it may be deferred for some time. By-election writs have to be issued for West Hastings, Ont., and Yale, B.C. There is the appointment of a man as Inspector-General of Banks; the Canadian National Railway Board has two vacancies to be filled, while there is the proposal to be considered of adding to the present Canadian National Board with a view of forming an executive within easy reach of Sir Henry Thornton.

Other matters which will have to be taken up shortly concern the floating of the refunding loan in the Fall; the recommendation of the Turgeon Commission that the operation of terminal elevators should be separated from the duties of the Board of Grain Commissioners; the attitude of the Government toward the suggested round-table conference between the British and Dominion Governments on Empire relations and the nomination of a Canadian representative on the Empire Food Board. ## STEVENS MISQUOTES HIS LETTER TO PROVINCIALS IN DENYING SECRET PACT

Revelation in this newspaper of the correspondence between Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative Member for Vancouver centre, and the Provincial Party before the recent provincial election has stirred Mr. Stevens into an attempt to explain away his secret understanding with the forces of General A. D. McRae. In a letter to his supporters in Vancouver Mr. Stevens attempts to show that his relations with the Provincials were of the most innocent character but, in quoting from his letter to the Provincials, he apparently changes the words around in such a way that the original meaning is changed.

Seven other women were in the party which on two ropes reached the peak yesterday at 4:30 p.m. after a thirteen-hour struggle over rocks and across dangerous ice slopes. They were her husband, W. A. D. Munday of Vancouver, Miss Annette E. Buck of Brooklyn, N.Y., a Drinnan of Calgary, J. T. Porter of Saskatoon, E. Lambert of the Victoria branch, Ottawa, and Conrad Kain and J. St. Ladance guides. ## GIVE CONSIDERATION TO SAANICH WATER

Supply For Peninsula Will be Discussed by Public Works Committee

The question of a domestic water supply for Saanich peninsula recently discussed by the Chamber of Commerce and the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Commission came before the City Council at the special meeting held yesterday afternoon.

A letter was received from Saanich asking the council if its members prepared to renew the water agreement between the city and Saanich Municipality of September, 1914 for a further term of ten years.

A discussion at the Victoria-Saanich Committee meeting for an extension of the water service was referred to and on the suggestion of Alderman Todd, the whole matter was referred to the Public Works Committee, the Water Commissioner and the City Solicitor.

The renewal of the agreement and the recent discussion on the subject will therefore come up for consideration at a meeting of the Public Works Committee.

TIMBER CAMPS TO OPERATE SHORTLY

Six Weeks Given as Maximum Before Lumbermen Will Resume Work

H. E. Beasley, general superintendent of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, who has just returned from inspection of the island line, reports that the general prospects for the lumber industry this year are favorable.

Most of the camps at the present time are closed down, and the companies are saving heavy pay-rolls in consequence. But there is every likelihood that the lumbermen will be out in the woods again within a month, and possibly before that time, should the weather take a sudden change, and an early fall set in.

"Fires are a menace at the present time," said Mr. Beasley, "and although we have not suffered to any great extent, there is always danger from the flames. One of our tool houses was destroyed by a falling tree a few days ago. But fortunately no one was in the way at the time. Flames have burned into our track a short way, but there is no serious loss in this connection."

Mr. Beasley foresees a busy year for the railway company in all parts particularly in the vicinity of Cowichan Lake, where two new spur lines have been built to serve lumber camps, for the purpose of cutting for the increased output. Operations will begin within six weeks, he asserts, and the season will then immediately settle down to a steady production.

STEVENS MISQUOTES HIS LETTER TO PROVINCIALS IN DENYING SECRET PACT

A distasteful thing to me to be forced to resist their representations.

"This remark, which seems natural enough, and understandable enough, to all who wish to be fair, has been distorted and twisted out of all its original meaning, and used as indicating a lack of sincerity on my part in the recent provincial election."

QUOTATION ALTERED

A comparison of Mr. Stevens' quotation from his original letter and the letter itself shows that the Vancouver Member has altered it to bolster up his case. In the original letter he says that it is going to be necessary to help only one party there (in British Columbia) all I can no matter how distasteful the task may be.

But in his subsequent letter to Mr. Cunliffe he quotes himself as having said merely that it was "a distasteful thing to me to be forced to resist their representations."

The representation of his Conservative-Provincial friends Mr. Stevens originally said it was distasteful for him to help his party at the election for the grant to enable the team to go to Vancouver. The writer reminded the council that several trophies were brought back.

CALLS ATTACK MALICIOUS

Mr. Stevens' letter to Mr. Cunliffe explaining his correspondence with the Provincial Party is lengthy. He says:

"Dear Mr. Cunliffe—In your letter recently you referred to some attacks made on me by the Provincial Party and particularly myself, in The Victoria Times, and enclosed certain clippings in which it was charged that I was a traitor to my constituents."

"I may say very frankly that these malicious attacks usually serve only to amuse me, and that I am not at all concerned by them. I am not aware of the tactics of our political enemies. In this particular instance it is rather a crude effort on the part of our political opponents to create ill-feeling within the party. They hope by these coarse, malicious and misleading statements to create the impression that there is schism and division within our ranks. I have decided, therefore, in this instance to explain to you the situation particularly having reference to the letter quoted by Mr. Farris on the eve of the election."

DUTY TO FIGHT OLIVER

"I had been importuned by a large number of members of the Provincial Party to keep clear of the provincial fight. It was urged by some who were avowed supporters of the federal cause that the provincial fight did not properly come within the scope of my political activity. However, I gave the matter a great deal of thought, and while I was loath to offend supporters of the Conservative cause federally, felt it was the duty of Conservatives to co-operate in an effort to defeat the Oliver Government."

"In my own case this was doubly justified by the fact that two years ago I contested the leadership with Mr. Bowser at the convention held at Vancouver, on which occasion Mr. Bowser was successful, and I was disappointed. I would have been proud to have supported the choice of the party at that convention."

FREIGHT RATES

Then follows the reference to the letter to the Provincials. Mr. Stevens proceeds:

"Another point used is that I had joined with a certain number of Conservatives in the method of dealing with the freight rates case. The most complete answer to that is to be found in the following facts:

"Immediately on my return to Ottawa I was informed that the Crow's Nest Pass rates were to be restored. I joined with a delegation and appeared before the Federal Cabinet, with Premier King presiding, and there presented the case for British Columbia."

"In presenting the case I related the restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement in exactly the same terms I had declared on the public platform in British Columbia, and had the privilege of presenting to the

EXPROPRIATION CASE IN COURT

Arises From Second Transmission Line to Jordan River Being Constructed

Argument as to the value of 1.47 acres of lands sought by the B.C. Electric Railway Company limited in connection with duplicating the transmission line in the Sooke district, on the route from Jordan River to Brentwood, opened before Judge Lammiman in County Court Chambers this morning.

The land is owned by the Helgesen interests, pioneer farmers of Sooke. The hearing proceeded with Harold E. Robertson, K.C., and A. D. King for the applicants, and James A. Alkman for the owners of the land. The proceedings are by arbitration.

Evidence this morning was largely that of Victoria realty operators in relation to the value of the strip of land sought for the purpose of the pole line.

CHALLENGE MACKENZIE POLL

While no developments are expected in the Vancouver election until the end of the year, a challenge from the Liberal camp to the return by Judge Cayley of Michael J. Mackenzie, Conservative for Mackenzie district.

J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., counsel for D. G. Mackay, the Liberal candidate, defeated upon a recount in county court, stated today that there would be no appeal taken by his client from Judge Cayley.

"Our present intention is to petition to the Supreme Court," said Mr. Farris. "We have twenty-one days from the return resulting from Judge Cayley's recount. In the Supreme Court we will again challenge the recount and will also allege that irregularities occurred in the election."

In the Supreme Court, it is understood, the Mackenzie election will be protested on the grounds that the recount was not a valid one, and that the election was not properly authorized to conduct their polls by the returning officer. The latter, it is said, sent out appointments in blank and the names were subsequently filled by others. The election is to be attacked on the broad ground that this official failed in his duty.

No steps will be taken to contest the Vancouver election until after the final return by W. D. Balfour, returning officer, stated A. H. MacNeill, K.C., counsel for the Provincials.

BETTER PROGRESS

Mr. Balfour is making better progress and now expects to be able to count eight ballot boxes a day. At this rate the count will be completed in another five weeks, about the end of August or the beginning of September.

The contents of forty-three ballot boxes from division one will be completed on Wednesday night, said the returning officer.

A disinclination to permit examination of poll books and deputy returning officers reports was evidenced yesterday by the Provincial Party. A request of Elmore Collier, representing the Conservatives.

Mr. Balfour's decision was based on the same grounds as his refusal to allow examination of absentee voters' envelopes.

There was nothing in the Elections Act authorizing the investigation requested by Mr. Collier, pointed out the returning officer.

EXPROPRIATION CASE IN COURT

Arises From Second Transmission Line to Jordan River Being Constructed

Argument as to the value of 1.47 acres of lands sought by the B.C. Electric Railway Company limited in connection with duplicating the transmission line in the Sooke district, on the route from Jordan River to Brentwood, opened before Judge Lammiman in County Court Chambers this morning.

The land is owned by the Helgesen interests, pioneer farmers of Sooke. The hearing proceeded with Harold E. Robertson, K.C., and A. D. King for the applicants, and James A. Alkman for the owners of the land. The proceedings are by arbitration.

Evidence this morning was largely that of Victoria realty operators in relation to the value of the strip of land sought for the purpose of the pole line.

CHALLENGE MACKENZIE POLL

While no developments are expected in the Vancouver election until the end of the year, a challenge from the Liberal camp to the return by Judge Cayley of Michael J. Mackenzie, Conservative for Mackenzie district.

J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., counsel for D. G. Mackay, the Liberal candidate, defeated upon a recount in county court, stated today that there would be no appeal taken by his client from Judge Cayley.

"Our present intention is to petition to the Supreme Court," said Mr. Farris. "We have twenty-one days from the return resulting from Judge Cayley's recount. In the Supreme Court we will again challenge the recount and will also allege that irregularities occurred in the election."

In the Supreme Court, it is understood, the Mackenzie election will be protested on the grounds that the recount was not a valid one, and that the election was not properly authorized to conduct their polls by the returning officer. The latter, it is said, sent out appointments in blank and the names were subsequently filled by others. The election is to be attacked on the broad ground that this official failed in his duty.

No steps will be taken to contest the Vancouver election until after the final return by W. D. Balfour, returning officer, stated A. H. MacNeill, K.C., counsel for the Provincials.

Walter P. Chrysler says Maxwell Now Sets a New Pace.

The good Maxwell is displaying the possibilities of the four-cylinder car, in the very things people want in motor cars, in a way they have never been demonstrated before.

With the active participation of the Chrysler Six engineering staff, the process of betterment begun three years ago was tremendously accelerated.

The difference in the way the Maxwell rides and drives and steers will impress you instantly.

You will be expecting the vibration you've always felt behind a four-cylinder engine.

But you will be delightfully disappointed—and surprised. For we have taken that vibration away from Maxwell. It's gone.

You can safely count on 28 miles to the gallon or better. This figure is not ours, but the average of Maxwell owner reports.

Main bearings rarely if ever replaced; a longer-lived, smoother-running car because vibration is practically eliminated.

That's the way we are building the good Maxwell today—with a far greater proportion of costly alloy steels than is usual at its price.

The most I ask is that you compare Maxwell riding and driving and performance and then decide for yourself whether any other four you know of can match up to a Maxwell.

He was attended by a naval aide and officials of the church, who conducted brief services but made no address.

PRISON TERM FOR ONE ACCUSED IN COUNTY HEARING

Wallace L. McNaughton Acquitted on Charge; Dr. J. P. Vye Sentenced

At the close of the hearing of Rex vs. McNaughton and Vye in County Court yesterday Dr. J. P. Vye was sentenced to one year's imprisonment. Wallace L. McNaughton was acquitted. Counsel for the defense asked a stay of execution pending a settlement of the accused's affairs. The conviction and acquittal on the joint charge came at the close of a three-day session, with the address by counsel yesterday afternoon. Stuart Henderson with R. H. Green and P. J. Sinnott appeared for the accused, and R. C. Lowe for the Crown. An appeal may follow.

ADDRESS BY COUNSEL

The accused were charged with committing an illegal act, said Mr. Henderson the one of counselling and the other of performing an illegal operation. They were charged jointly with the use of an instrument. It was for the Crown to show that an instrument was used and that it was with intent to commit an illegal act. The Crown had not made out its case.

Throughout the trial there had been a building up of evidence, and an allegation of facts. The story of the complainant was one of a girl who practiced deceit on her own parents he said and on her own admission was leading an immoral life. It was a serious charge to prefer without foundation. The accused were men with a future and that future could not be taken away on the oath of a deceitful girl. Mr. Henderson closed the address for the defense by pointing to what he termed contradictions in the case by the Crown.

THE CROWN REPLIES

For the Crown Mr. Lowe contended the case against the accused had been proved to the hilt. Evidence at the preliminary investigation had not been complete because all that was needed there was to make out a prima facie case. The story told by complainant was consistent throughout. She related the facts of the case in such a natural order that the jury was at once freighted with conviction and reasonable to presume as the true facts of the case.

In addition the Crown had been corroborated unexpectedly in several points by the evidence of the defense, he said. The visits to the accused Vye's office, and to the McNaughton premises were admitted. True the defense had a different story as the reason for these visits but that story did not hang together. The absence of what might have been expected in a diary entry, the lack of an account, and other points told in favor of the Crown. He would ask for a conviction.

SENTENCE PASSED

In summing up Judge Lampman referred to the impression created by witnesses for the Crown and for the defense in the box. The accused were jointly charged with the commission of an illegal act. The complainant was an accomplice, and in such cases it was necessary to scrutinize very carefully the evidence of complainant.

Complainant had been before the court three days, and her evidence had been subjected to cross-examination drawn from five previous hearings in the lower court. If there had been a conviction in any important detail of her evidence before the police court, or the higher court His Honor had not seen it. On the other hand the manner in which complainant had given her evidence and with the apparent lack of revengeful purpose that might be expected if her story were concocted. Complainant had given her evidence in a convincing manner, and had told the same story throughout.

The defence met the case by admitting the visits and saying they referred to another treatment of no relation to the charge. It was significant, however, that no entry had been made of each visit so that a fee could be asked at the conclusion of the treatment. Then the defence set up that father of complainant had sought the performance of an illegal operation which was refused. This was hard to credit. It was denied by the father of the girl, and the court believed his testimony.

In conclusion, the court could not accept the evidence of Dr. Vye and there would be a conviction against the accused. There had not been the same weight of evidence against McNaughton and he would be acquitted.

"Have you anything to say as to why sentence should not be passed upon you?" asked the court of Dr.

Vye in the customary address. "Nothing—other than that I am not guilty of the crime," returned the accused. "I will sentence you to one year's imprisonment," concluded His Honor. At this stage Mr. Henderson asked a delay in issuing the conviction so that the accused could act his affairs in order.

RAILROAD LABOR DISPUTE IN THE U.S.

Chicago, July 29.—The United States Railroad Labor Board has taken new steps to compel the appearance before it of the representatives of the engine employees of virtually all the Western railroads in their dispute with the carriers. Instead the board postponed further hearings on the dispute until September 8 to give the railroads additional time to prepare statistics and historical data on the rules involved in the controversy.

No representative of the labor brotherhoods involved appeared before the board at yesterday's hearing.

When the board adjourned there were indications that steps would be taken before September 8 to establish in the courts the board's authority to summon and compel parties to a dispute to submit the cases to the tribunal. It has been contended by the employees' organizations that the board held no jurisdiction in their controversy with the Western carriers in that the negotiations, which were being carried on privately, did not threaten suspension of traffic.

LABOR CO-OPERATIVE STORE CHANGES HANDS

San Bernardino, Cal., July 29.—The last of three co-operative grocery stores organized here by labor unions five years ago today, the peak of high prices was sold yesterday. The project attracted nation-wide attention at the time. About $40,000 was invested by individual members of unions. Decision to retire from the grocery business was reached as the result of gradually decreasing patronage. No financial statement has been issued, although it is said the original capital had largely decreased.

HEALTH RULES FOR CHILDREN STATED

Sound Advice Given to Parents by Association in New York

Investigation Led to Discovery of Many Cases of Malnutrition

New York, July 29.—The malnutrition of children in the United States constitutes a serious health problem, according to the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, which for the last four and a half years has been testing various methods of combating this evil. Some of the facts ascertained from the society's study are included in a statement given out here today.

It is set forth that among 2,181 apparently well children examined in the medical clinics of the society, 26, or thirty per cent, were diagnosed as malnourished. The society is seeking the most effective methods of correcting habits of eating or living, which cause malnutrition, and has issued a monograph entitled "Food for the Family," containing suggestions for proper feeding as a means of insuring proper nutrition.

IMPROPER CHOICES

This condition of malnutrition is not due to insufficient food, but to the constant use of improperly chosen food or the inability of the body to make use of the food eaten because of insufficient air, rest, sunshine or physical defects. If these children were in danger from fire or industrial accidents, the report of the society says, every safety device and preventive measure known would be urged to protect them. Although the effects of malnutrition are much slower, often much more indirect and much less dramatic than those from fire or accidents, they are even more deplorable because of the larger number affected and the lingering misery resulting.

EARNING CAPACITY

"Many a wage earner is unable to increase his income to the safety level because of health conditions due to poor nutrition," says the report. "Too many children who apparently show no signs of disease or malnutrition are allowed to drift into the wage-earning period with only a part of their rightful earning capacity developed."

"Malnutrition thus concerns more than the individual or the home in which it occurs. It affects the whole country by reducing the economic productivity of the population and thereby increasing the cost of living. Since much of the sickness and lowered vitality in later life is the result of poor nutrition, as physicians have frequently stated, the importance of providing educational guidance in nutrition as well as providing attention for the correction of physical defects is very great."

FAMILIES ASSISTED

To ascertain what are the principal causes of malnutrition, the society analyzed the condition of 275 families among those which its nutrition bureau is now assisting. Of that number, 227 families required instruction in the preparation of the proper foods; 198 needed assistance in the planning of meals; forty-six families had to be helped in marketing, because simple foods, entirely strange to them were recommended; a special diet had to be planned for eighty-eight families. Only twenty-seven families needed financial assistance to provide adequate food. Greater economy was found to be necessary in forty-four families, while in sixty families the assistance took the form of helping them to readjust expenditures.

Indifference, women working and no one at home to look after the children, living conditions too congested, resulting in inadequate rest and improper ventilation; and mother ill, were other problems found to be responsible for malnutrition.

HEALTH RULES

A guide to proper nutrition which the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor will use in its efforts to reduce malnutrition among the "neighbourhood districts" of this city includes, in addition to suggested diets and menus, a "dozen good health rules for children," which reads as follows:

Emphatically DO—
1. Use milk—fresh, clean, whole milk for children. Every growing child should have a quart a day, in some form.

2. Eat plenty of vegetables.

3. Be sure that a school child has a good luncheon, not candy, pickles and ice cream cones.

4. Eat coarse food, such as oatmeal, bran muffins and vegetables, so the bowels will not be constipated.

5. Eat slowly and chew food well.

6. Have the meals at the same hours each day.

7. Eat only bread, or crackers and milk, or bread and butter between meals, and only in the middle of the morning or the afternoon.

8. Wash hands and face before eating.

9. Drink plenty of water between meals.

10. Be in bed by 9 o'clock or before.

11. Have windows opened in the sleeping room at night.

12. Brush the teeth at least once a day.

Important DON'TS—

Do not let the children eat pork or veal, much meat of any kind, fried foods, rich pies and cakes, strong spice and vinegar, green or spoiled fruit.

Do not let children drink tea, coffee, beer, wine, soda.

Do not let them eat between meals, except the things named in No. 7 above. Do not let them eat candy, ice cream, cones, nuts, cakes and cookies between meals.

J. W. DAVIS PLANS A SPEAKING TOUR

Democratic Candidate For U.S. Presidency to Visit Many Cities

Washington, July 29 (Canadian Press)—The presidential campaign, though it is beginning to warm up considerably, is awaiting the speeches of acceptance by Coolidge and Davis to get fairly under way. Once the speeches of acceptance are made and the candidates begin their series of addresses, the political wheels will begin to turn.

President Coolidge will not make a general tour of the country, though he will make a number of important speeches. John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee, is expected to swing about the country and make a quick tour of many states. How many speeches will be made by Senator La Follette will depend much on his state of health.

The vice-presidential candidates of the Republican, Democratic and Independent tickets will make a long series of speeches.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES WISH TO GO TO U.S.

250 in Philippines Wish to Join 600 Who Entered Republic Year Ago

Manila, July 29.—A survey of the condition of the 250 Russian refugees who arrived here nearly a year and a half ago from Vladivostok to be made by the Philippine Health Department, the Bureau of Customs and a physician of the United States quarantine service to determine whether they are qualified to enter the United States. There appears to be little likelihood of the refugees being allowed to land in the United States for many months to come, but Admiral Stark, who led the colony from Vladivostok, expresses the hope that arrangement for admission of most of the Russians may be made.

About a year ago some 600 of the 850 who came here in February, 1923, were sent to San Francisco on the army transport Merritt and reports from them about favorable conditions in the United States have caused their friends and relatives remaining here to renew their efforts to reach the United States.

7,000 IN COLONY

The colony of some 7,000, headed by Admiral Stark, adherent of the old monarchical regime, was forced to leave Vladivostok by the Soviet. The refugees took sixteen small ships and set out late in 1922 to look for a country in which to land. Several thousand were dropped in Korea and other thousands were left in China, a number of ships being sold en route to obtain subsistence. When they reached the Philippines the personnel had dwindled to 850 and the number of ships to eleven. During the last year and a half five more of the ships have been sold, leaving six now at the Olongapo naval station.

NAVY LEAGUE CONCERT

DURING the last few years the Navy League of Canada has sent 230 boys from British Columbia to service in the Mercantile Marine. Out of this number seventy-three have gone from Victoria and after serving four years' apprenticeship eight of these boys are already sitting for second mates' certificates.

The value of the work which the Navy League is doing is better understood when one considers that none of the large marine transportation companies will take boys into their service unless they have first undergone elementary training in the Navy League. Moreover, the instruction which these boys receive before they are ready for the more important branches of their chosen calling is sufficiently comprehensive in its nature to entitle those who wish to study for one of the many lucrative professions which the service embraces. There was a time, of course, when such privileges were the perquisite of the sons of wealthy men and were bought with high premiums.

From these facts alone the general public will have little difficulty in recognizing the service which the Navy League is performing, and this knowledge should encourage the citizens of Victoria to turn out to-night to the concert which the Arion Club will give in the grounds of the Parliament Buildings under its auspices. This magnificent body of vocalists needs no introduction to local music lovers. It is one of the most unique institutions of its kind in Canada and its history already is a long chapter of brilliant achievement.

This occasion, however, is of particular interest to the Navy League and the officers of the Victoria branch are desirous that there shall be a large attendance to listen to an excellent programme which has been especially prepared by the club.

WHAT IS A CANADIAN?

ONE thing the new United States quota law emphasizes is the fact that the status of a Canadian still remains undefined to the people of this country and to the rest of the world. For purposes of regulating the inflow of new citizens into our neighbor's domain the Washington Government regards Canadians as those people who were born here. To them it gives an opportunity to move across the border in any numbers and at any time. No quota limit applies to them. But the Canadian who comes from another country is subject to the quota. This latter, therefore, is not looked upon as a Canadian in the strict sense of the term.

It is not surprising that the United States Government should make its restrictive regulations in respect of immigration conform to Canada's own system of classifying her citizens. It is not possible for our neighbors to define who should be regarded as a Canadian when the Census Department at Ottawa classifies our people according to racial origin. It is fortunate for Canada, of course, that the quota regulations which have just gone into force close up the outlet for thousands upon thousands of our citizens who might otherwise leave the Dominion; we need to keep all our present population and add to its number as quickly as possible. But the point to which attention is drawn is the fact that many members of our provincial Legislatures, our House of Commons and Senate, and at least three Premiers, in the eyes of the world, as implied by the United States quota law, are not Canadians because they were not born in Canada.

This is obviously a situation which should be corrected by the authorities at Ottawa without delay. We are rather proud of the fact that this Dominion is considered to have reached a position of equality with the Mother Country within the British Empire in the light of international relations, and we lose no time in reminding foreign countries of the fact when any action of theirs implies an inferior status. The authorities, therefore, should take the necessary steps to define a status of Canadian citizenship which would be analogous to the position enjoyed by the nation. The matter might be easily disposed of by specifying a residence qualification and eligibility to vote in a Federal election.

It should be patent to the authorities that the United States quota law actually advertises us as anything but a united Canadian people. Whether Canadians by birth or adoption, all who reside in Canada and enjoy the privilege of the franchise are obviously Canadians, irrespective of racial origin. As such it follows that they should be excepted from any other classification either here or elsewhere.

THEY CAN SPREAD TRUTH

IT was a pity that the Scottish editors who have been touring Canada could not have visited Vancouver Island. Whoever was responsible for arranging their itinerary has been guilty of a serious oversight. This is one spot that should not have been omitted.

These important visitors have come and gone, however, and the various interviews which they have given from time to time would seem to suggest that they are far from disappointed in what they have seen. As was to be supposed, they soon came to the conclusion that this country is not in need of industrial workers at the present time. On the other hand they satisfied themselves that the Immigration Department is justified in saying to the people of the Old Country that the man who cares to come to Canada to work on the land, to take up land of his own, or to jump at any job that offers for the time being, could soon find his proper niche and make his way to a decent living. These are the workers who create industrial activity.

Influential journalists who have seen for themselves can perform a service to their own country and to many who are facing the prospect of permanent idleness by giving the reading public of Great Britain plain facts. They can set about doing it with the knowledge that the man who is afraid of the truth about conditions, who jibs when he is told that he will have to work hard, is not the man Canada wants.

OFF THE MARK

ONE interesting point in the discussion in the British House of Commons as to why Baltic timber was used for some of the scenery at the Empire Pageant at Wembley is the statement from the Secretary of the Overseas Trade Department—Mr. William Lunn, M.P.

Colonel Grant Morden raised the question as to why the agreement between the Exhibition authorities and the High Commissioners—providing that no foreign timber should be used without the express consent of the Dominion of Wales—was broken to the extent of the introduction of 50,000 feet of Baltic products into the scenery in question. Mr. Lunn replied that owing to the shortness of the time available for preparation of the scenery it was impossible to include such a condition in the contract.

The inner history of the Pageant of Empire, of course, is that the Exhibition authorities lost several weeks of time last April deciding as to how the affair should be produced and by whom. And it was only when it was finally realized that one Pageant Master would have to have supreme direction that the essential preliminaries were got under way.

When Mr. Lunn pleads insufficient time to obtain Empire lumber he is obviously off the mark. All details of the Pageant were settled early in May and the first "show" did not take place until this week.

Ten years ago yesterday Austria declared war on Serbia. Much has happened to the Hapsburgs and the Hohenzollerns since then.

Lord Byng says he is a full-blown, six-cylinder, hardened optimist. There is room for every Canadian in the same class.

One of the alienists engaged on the Franks case said that one of the culprits, whose mental equipment he has been examining, would eventually die. We could call ourselves any "ist" and reach a similar conclusion.

Golfing authorities in Canada ought to stage at least one of the important national tournaments in British Columbia next year. This is one question of interest to the West in which the Board of Railway Commissioners may not interfere with the principle.

Allied statesmen in London seem to be hopeful of a settlement of the reparations question. A weary and war-torn world will sincerely hope that it will not be necessary to hold a sixteenth Conference to dispose of an issue with has been on the international agenda paper for five years.

Vancouver policemen are arresting undesirable by the score. Those against whom nothing of a definite nature can be proved, but who are known to be potential disturbers of the peace, are being forcibly asked to depart and return no more. In the light of recent events a little precaution would seem to be timely.

TEN YEARS LATER, TWO DAYS LONGER

From The Chronicle
Speaking from a purely local viewpoint, we may most emphatically add that the mail service is much slower than was formerly. The "Transcontinental" train does not carry the mail. Today it takes two days longer to send a letter and get a reply than was the case ten years ago.

RESTRICTED RENTS

We agree that the higher rents need not be protected, but it is time that landlords realized that the day had gone by probably forever when rents could be absolutely unrestricted. In the public interest interference with the right of contract continually takes place. It takes place in trade in certain commodities in contracts between employer and employee, in sanitary regulations and in building rules. Nothing so surely tends to make a man discontented with civilization or a revolutionary as homelessness or bad housing conditions.

THE IMMINENT DIFFICULTY

From The Scotsman
It would be deplorable were the pre-war piling up of naval and military armaments to become now a race of air armaments, but it is impossible to trust to the doctrine enunciated by the Under Secretary for Air that, "if you want peace prepare for peace." On the contrary, to disarm while other nations are arming is simply to invite attack. A limitation agreement would be best were it obtainable, but until it has been obtained this country cannot neglect to take reasonable steps to insure its own protection.

No kind of traffic
No use of service, none, contract, succession,
No use of land, till, vineyard, none;
No use of metal, corn, or wine, or oil;

But nature should bring forth,
Of its own kind, all fowl, all abundance,

Dr. Frank Crane On "The Smotherers"

(Copyright)

THE trouble with the egotist is that he smotherers you. More marriages have been wrecked by smothering than by any other cause.

No one can sustain a continued intimacy unless he allows the other party to that intimacy a certain amount of independence. The instinct for personal expression is one of the deepest of our humanity. Whoever treads upon that instinct, and denies it, has laid the ground for a deep resentment.

A recent writer tells of a man who was arrested for desertion after twelve years of faithful married life. "He said that he had been coming home as usual, that he had seen his wife and children through the window, that he had seen them there every night and that he could not bear it. A fine coerced him back to the army. Crime is often a common impulse, magnified and sustained, and his impulse was self-preservation. He was escaping from a supplementary picture of his own conformity. He said: 'Your Honor, if she only had hit me, I never would have left her.'"

Significantly enough, some of our laws make violence and brutality an excuse for divorce, but not smothering. It is well known, however, that the carter's or blacksmith's wife very easily puts up with an occasional beating, but it is difficult for the duchess to live with an egotist.

If a husband or a wife makes the partner but a reflex of himself or herself, and of his or her ideas, it may make for conformity, but hardly for satisfaction.

It is a difficult thing to see, that perfect unity is impossible without perfect independence. There can be no sincere unity without deliberate self-giving. And if there is an effort on the part of one to make the other conform in every way to his wishes and his ideals, the result is smothering. The eventuality is not harmony, but disharmony. By and by there is a complete effort to evade what cannot be argued with. Whoever will not tolerate anything but his own ideals and convictions is putting a premium upon deception.

Submission, or self-giving, must be entirely voluntary to be worth while.

Canada's First Duke as Ruler Feared Democracy

CHARLES LENNOX, Duke of Richmond, stepped ashore at Quebec as Governor-General of Upper and Lower Canada on July 29, 1818. No more distinguished, courteous, impressive figure has ever graced the Governorship of Canada. His father, the Duke of Richmond, who, in 1815, gave that memorable ball in Brussels, at which were present so many of the officers of the British expeditionary force under the Duke of Wellington and from which they drifted quietly onto the Quatre Bras fight—the ball to which Byron's familiar lines in "Childe Harold" refer:

"There was a sound of revelry by night,
And Belgium's capital had gathered then,
Her Beauty and her Chivalry."
He was the same Duke of Richmond who, when a young captain in the Coldstream Guards, had fought a duel with the Duke of York, and shot away a royal curl of hair for satisfaction, and then, challenged by an Irishman for presumption in challenging royalty, had wounded his antagonist.

The Duke's daughter, the Lady Sarah Lennox, had eloped with young Sir Peregrine Maitland, of the Duke of Wellington's Staff, in Paris, while the allied armies were encamped there after the Battle of Waterloo, because her father had set his face against a son-in-law of such comparatively humble estate. Certain friends in the ruling circles of Great Britain, determined to reconcile the Duke with his daughter and her husband, had engineered the appointment of Sir Peregrine Maitland as Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada at the same time as the Duke was appointed Governor-General. For many years Lady Sarah Maitland held her elegant court in Toronto and as her husband's country house, "Stamford Park," on the heights above the village of St. David's in the Niagara Peninsula.

NEITHER the Duke nor his son-in-law were conspicuously successful in the management of the populations of Lower and Upper Canada, restless under the arbitrary and acquisitive maladministration of the groups of entrenched and inter-married officials of government. Both were influenced by the reactionary spirit which followed the overthrow of Napoleon—the spirit of Metternich of the Holy Alliance, of Lord Castlereagh and of the Duke of Wellington. In spite of the compliment which the French-Canadians felt in the appointment of a Governor of such illustrious rank, and in spite of the princely retinue and the lavish display, the Duke ran foul of the French-Canadian sensibilities in his first, and only, session of the Legislature. The members of the Legislative Assembly, mainly French Canadians, refused to pass the greatly increased estimates for the year's expenditure, declaring for a policy of retrenchment and economy. They may have been nervously apprehensive on account of the Duke's personal extravagance. In any case, it was simply a step in their long fight with the Legislative Council, mainly British officials, and with the Governor, when they asserted the right to decide the salary of each individual in the Civil Service. The Legislative Council promptly rejected the supply bill made out in this form, and the Governor, proroguing Parliament, congratulated the Legislative Council and censured the Assembly, who resented this intensely. "We must overcome democracy or it will overcome us," remarked the Duke.

His Grace was very much interested in public improvements and in opening up the more northern areas. It was on a visit of inspection that he lost his life. In June, 1819, he went with his elder daughter and her suite to Montreal. On the way he stopped for a few days at Sorel. At a fair there which he visited, a tame fox, in rescuing the spaniel he received a bite in the hand from the fox. Two months later, while touring the backwoods settlements near Ottawa in the saddle, he suddenly developed the symptoms of hydrophobia. During the spasms of agony he would call out: "For shame Lennox, be a man!" Death came quickly on August 28, at the little village of Richmond near Ottawa. The body was taken to Quebec and there it lay in gorgeous state in the Chateau St. Louis, where now the C.P.R. hotel, the Chateau Frontenac stands, and thousands the curious, the awe-struck, the vengeful, the admiring, the mourning filed past the bier.

Thus passed the brief, brilliant, not altogether happy reign of the first British Duke to represent the King in Canada before the Duke of Connaught, regime of recent and pleasant memory.

VETERAN'S THANKS

Dear Sir—I wish to express my thanks to the local branch of the Great War Veterans' association for obtaining a pension for me in connection with my sons who gave their all in the service of their country. I am sure if it had not been for the assistance they gave me I should not have got a pension at all as they stayed with the case after others felt they could not do any more. Thank you for the use of your paper in publishing this letter.

Yours truly,

REAL ESTATE VALUES

To the Editor—Your correspondent H. H. Holmes states that if a piece of land was worth $1,000 untaxed and $25 taxes were then put upon it, its value would be $500. I know of no land in or near Victoria that has been untaxed during my residence here, but during that period many lots have been sold at $1,000. The purchaser would be paying them that the taxes had to be paid on them, but although he would be placing a value on the land, he would be placing a value on the municipality. Were it not for the restriction on municipalities, the low value of the property would be even quicker than they are now doing.

The only true value of any article at any time is what it will sell for. Hence the low value must mean that any other amount must be a false valuation.

Shares in a gold mine might be selling at one time for ten times their par value, and in valuing the estate of the lucky owner of such shares that is the value that would be put on the value of the shares. But if the mine petered out the value of the shares would fall to nothing. In that case the owner of such shares would value the shares at the value of the shares, but if he represented his shares as being worth ten times their par value and got a purchaser who would get a jail term as a swindler.

The municipalities have increased both the valuation of the property and also the mill rate. They have spent the money on any far-fetched schools, tourist hunting, cheap bridges to railway companies, and guaranteed an increase to the hotel. By doing so they are driving people away and making it increasingly difficult to the municipalities to hold tight to the values they have destroyed and watch them to see that the rate be no higher than the law allows. Don't let us allow any false valuations for the sake of keeping the mill rate down, but compel them to speak the truth, even though they condemn themselves by so doing.

CRICKET TOURNAMENT

To the Sports Editor—The cricket tournament is over and the collection of players called the "Incoogs" has won it, but really there is no real credit due to them for the performance. The team was really an aggregate of the star players of the league, six or seven being "rep" men and at least four prominent "rep" men among them, so how could the other teams hope to have a chance of winning against them? If one noticed it, they were at the top of the table all through the week, the other teams not getting a leg to stand on. The names of the "rep" men were: Sparks, Cobbett, Grant, R. Wenman, Allen, Wilkinson, Hinch all on a local same team, who chance his a local even match cricket. It is just "cricket games" providing good ball and a bowler practice for the team, and the other team doing their best against overwhelming odds.

As a spectator to a part of every game last week I must congratulate every team on their plucky fight against the "Incoogs" who were far too superior for the other teams. The method employed by the Incoogs seems to be too much like making sure of the cup, whereas if the teams were evenly balanced there would be some good sporting games for all. Let's have cricket in spirit as a sport, not as a sporting game, and as a spectator, if I am spared to see another cricket tournament, I hope we shall see better sportsmanlike play than has been during this recent tournament.

PROPOSES CLOSING ROSS BAY CEMETERY

All New Burials Should be at Royal Oak, Says Alderman Andros

"The time has come when we should take up seriously the closing of Ross Bay Cemetery altogether," Alderman Andros remarked at the special council meeting yesterday afternoon.

Alderman Marchant supported Alderman Andros's suggestion as far as laying out new graves was concerned. There were, of course, those who had proprietary rights who must be considered. He suggested the Cemetery Committee give consideration to the matter. A considerable sum of money had been spent in laying out a new cemetery, and efforts should be made to popularize it for interments.

A recommendation was made by the Parks and Boulevards Committee that the grave plots through which the northern boundary line of the block ran before part of Fairfield Road was included in the cemetery, be equally divided between St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the City. The recommendation which is in accordance with the arrangement made with the Anglican Synod in the same connection was adopted by the council.

THREE PILLARS OF THE INDUSTRY

PROGRESS OF PROVINCE
DUE TO MAINTENANCE OF HUGE PURCHAS-
ING POWER

Vast Developments by Land and Sea Due to the Initiative of Lumbermen.

There are three great spending forces in the British Columbia forest industries with its purchasing power of $100,000,000 per annum.

1. The Timberholder—the pioneer investor in the raw material.

2. The Logger—the harvester of the timber crop.

3. The Manufacturer—the builder up of markets.

Upon the unimpeded functioning of these branches depends the fair progress of British Columbia's vital industry. A set-back to one spells disaster to all three.

The timberholders of the province, faced with fire and storm risks against which there is no insurance, have contributed over $45,000,000 to the provincial treasury during the last fifteen years. A world's record in similar taxation.

The loggers spend annually very large sums on new and costly equipment to keep pace with modern science and nature puts in their paths. Eight hundred miles of private railways, now in actual operation, are one result of this expenditure. The manufacturers of lumber, shingles, pulp and paper boxes and other forest products are also forced to expend millions every year on new machinery to maintain the efficiency of their plants. In that way alone can they meet the keen world competition and justify their product.

The British Columbia lumber manufacturers, by dint of strenuous marketing efforts, have increased their export shipments twofold in ten years. Their efforts have indisputably been the main factor in building up the seaports of British Columbia.

AT THE THEATRES

Great Avalanche
Scene in Zane
Grey Picture

Speaking of screen thrills! There's one that ought to leave a lifelong impression on everyone, who sees it down at the Dominion Theatre right now. It's the avalanche scene in the Zane Grey Paramount picture, "Wanderer of the Wasteland," which opened at the Dominion Theatre yesterday and will remain until Saturday next. Irvin Willat directed the production, which was adapted from the novel of the same name by George C. Hull and Victor Irvin.

It all comes about when one of the characters in the picture, who lives with his wife alone in the desert, gets it into his head that their daughter, Ruth, played by Billie Dove, who is teaching school in a far distant town, is not his daughter. In a fit of anger in the middle of the night he goes to the top of a slope behind their shack and starts throwing boulders down on to the shanty. The larger rocks carry smaller ones with them and start an avalanche that is a bear for realism. You've never seen anything quite like it before on the screen. As the cliffman stands on the edge of the cliff hurling over the rocks, his foot slips and he hurtles headlong down the precipice and is buried with the cabin under the mass.

Jack Holt, in the role of Adam Larey, has witnessed the whole thing, powerless to do anything. He leaves the desert and looks up the unfortunate pair's daughter and tells her everything, and—why go further, it would only spoil an evening of delightful entertainment for you.

—If you've read Zane Grey's novel, you'll want to see the picture.

Kirkwood-Lee

Stars in Columbia,
Are Home Folk

James Kirkwood and Lila Lee, the stars and Madge Bellamy, who plays an important role in "Love's Whirlpool" the Columbia Theatre's offering are all "home bodies." They care nothing for the bright lights or the gay cafes.

Mr. Kirkwood and Miss Lee, who recently became his wife, have established their home in a secluded nook of Hollywood, far up on the hills from which a clear day permits a glimpse of the Pacific. They reside at the upper terminus of Arroyo Avenue, and day or night, when not working at the studio, this happy couple may be found at home.

Miss Bellamy also has a lovely home in the far-famed suburb of Beverly Hills where she resides with her father and mother. An only child, this screen star has always been very close to her parents and seldom has spent much time away from them.

Since she came to Hollywood several years ago, Miss Bellamy has spent nearly all her leisure time at the family home, where she finds many things to do, she says, that makes the hours slip lightly by. Maybe that is why she has never found time for romance, for this young beauty of the silver sheet laughingly insists that she is "heart whole and fancy free."

"Women Men Marry"
Will be Shown at the Playhouse

"Women Men Marry" is one of those artfully designed productions that triumphantly carries out its purpose, which is to give the public a type of entertainment for which it has shown a decided liking. The theme and style of production are in popular favor and the material success of this picture seems a certainty.

The conflict between snobbery and a spirit of democracy gives us considerable interest and the old picturesque contrast of the rich girl and the poor man are "used" effectively. The heroine goes out to marry a title and falls in love with the ship stoker.

The nature of the story brings into prominence the splendor of material appointment. It is a society drama with all the glamor that so widely appeals. All this is emphasized in the ultra sophisticated atmosphere of the earlier part of the picture.

E. K. Lincoln as the stoker who can afford to laugh at trouble gives a performance that will please. The less likable role of the girl who has been taught the hard and fast rules of class distinction is skillfully handled by Florence Dixon, who is charmingly pretty. One of the best scenes and one that has fine comedy value shows the stoker spending his precious ten-dollar bill to buy food for a gang of starving bums. The picture ends with some graceful New England country scenes, beautifully photographed. It is showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

When Storm
Lashes Houses
Built on Stilts

If you ever feel the heed of a terrifying thrill, go down to Florida and stand upon Passe-a-Grille, at the entrance to Tampa Bay, while a hurricane is raging on the Gulf of Mexico.

This is the prescription offered by Colleen Moore, First National star who is at the Capitol Theatre in "The Perfect Flapper," who has a vivid recollection of the thrills of terror at the favorite Summer resort for Tampa.

The islet is long and low-lying. It is scarcely 100 yards wide and at its highest elevation, is only about five feet above high tide. The houses are built on tall pillars to save them from the rush of the billows which sweep the island every time a storm comes driving in from the Gulf.

When notified a gale is coming, one of those terrific hurricanes which sometimes sweep up from the Caribbean Sea, the residents of Passe-a-Grille execute a hasty retreat to the mainland, for there is always danger that some may be drowned in the angry waters. At times, however, they are caught unawares and Miss Moore once found herself in this predicament.

"It was a terrible and terrifying experience," says Miss Moore in describing it. "The waves came rolling in like billows, lashing themselves over the island in slathers of snowy foam. They gushed and gurgled about the slender stilts upon which the cottages were perched and beat about the foundations of the hotel."

"I was scared green, but there was no way to leave the island, so we stuck it out. But if I ever again feel the need of a real gale of true terror, I shall go down to Passe-a-Grille."

wait for a storm and revel in oodles and oodles of fear."

Miss Moore got some more thrills however, in a scene atop a moving house in "The Perfect Flapper," which is said to be one of the most spectacular scenes ever filmed. John Francis Dillon directed the picture, which contains a superlative cast including Phyllis Haver, Sydney Chaplin, Frank Mayo, Lydia Knott, Charles Wellesley and others.

Will be at the Royal Next Month
"The Covered Wagon"

Alan Hale, villain par excellence, is doing some more "villainous" as Sam Woodhull in James Cruze's Paramount production of Emerson Hough's "The Covered Wagon" which will be on view at the Royal Victoria Theatre week of August 11, with two performances each day at 2:30 and 8:30. Sam is a bad actor—that's the truth. He tries his best to "get" Will Bannon and win Molly Wingate and loses out, as villains should. J. Warren Kerrigan plays Bannon and Molly is interpreted by Lois Wilson.

Goliath Chosen
for "Shepherd King"
Now at Pantages

In reproducing the spectacular story of "The Shepherd King," the stage success by Wright Lorimer and Arnold Reeves, every effort was made to obtain the right type for the character roles. William Fox sent Director J. Gordon Edwards with Violet Merreware, who plays the leading feminine role, together with cameramen and assistants, to Italy and then to Egypt and Palestine where the rest of the cast were hired.

Scouts were sent out searching for a man of the right size for the part of Goliath, who was an important character in the play. At last one of the Fox representatives found an Italian-American, who seemed just suited for the role of the Philistine giant. He was seven feet tall, magnificently proportioned, broad shouldered, altogether a commanding figure. The man spoke good English but it meant a considerable loss of time to train him because he had never acted in a picture before. Even a good professional actor could not have done any better and there is no professional actor who could have rivaled this man's physical proportions.

"The Shepherd King" and its virile story of love in the shadow of the Pyramids is now showing at the Pantages Theatre.

LOCAL MAN HONORED
BY PICTURE CONCERN

J. M. Robertson, manager of the Dominion Theatre here, has made for himself an enviable reputation as a theatrical man, and has placed Victoria's theatre second on the list for returns gained during the year for the Famous Players Canadian Corporation. Winnipeg was first, but in two weeks more, had the competition last year, would have had this major position.

The Corporation checked up on its returns filed the other day, and gave the glad news to Mr. Robertson, together with a beautiful gold watch, inscribed with an engraved inscription which reads: "One of the loyal boys who helped the West to victory."

For more than ten years Mr. Robertson has been manager of the local picture houses. His continuous service has established for him a record in the managerial world.

With the difference of population to contend with, Mr. Robertson made a splendid showing when he made his theatre's returns for second place.

Scene from Zane Grey's Masterpiece, "Wanderer of the Desert," which is showing at the Dominion this week.

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

CELEBRATE JUBILEE OF SISTERHOOD

Five of the Sisters of St. Ann, an order familiar to the public through their splendid work in connection with St. Joseph's Hospital and St. Ann's Academy in this city, yesterday celebrated the three-day jubilee of their jubilee in the Order at a reception at the Academy. In the above group Sister Mary Bridget and Sister Mary Lucy, who have completed sixty years in the Order, are seated on the left and right respectively of Rev. Mother Provincial, the head of the Order in this Province. At the back standing from left to right are Sister Mary Theodore, Sister Mary Margaret Sacred Heart, and Sister Mary Octavia, who have each completed fifty years in the Order. In congratulating them at the special service on Saturday morning.

VENERABLE SISTERS AND PUPILS IN HAPPY REUNION

St. Ann's Jubilarians Honored at Reception at Academy Yesterday

If walls could speak, those at St. Ann's Academy could yesterday have told a story which would make one of the most inspiring chapters in the history of womanhood in this Province, for within its walls was gathered an assembly of Sisters and erstwhile pupils, to do honor to two beloved Sisters who have given sixty years of their lives to their religious profession and to three others who have completed fifty years in the Order.

ANNUAL REUNION
The annual reunion of former scholars coincided with the anniversary celebrations, and some hundreds of women, many of them now grandmothers, who in their early days received tuition at St. Ann's Academy, brought their good wishes and their congratulations and lived again in the days of their youth. In the boardroom recreation room with its masses of flowers, Sisters Mary Bridget and Mary Lucy, who were celebrating their diamond jubilee, and Sisters Mary Theodore, Mary Octavia, and Mary Margaret of the Sacred Heart, golden jubilee celebrants, held court, receiving the congratulations of old and young with serene graciousness.

OLD STUDENTS
Among the older students who welcomed the opportunity to visit their Alma Mater and pay tribute to these splendid pioneer women were: Mrs. T. L. Bridges of New Westminster (formerly Miss Mary Irving, of the class of 1860); Mrs. Gaudin, Mrs. Lyell (Miss Anderson, class of 1859); Miss Frances Meyer, class of 1860; Miss Thain, Mrs. R. B. McMicking (Miss Elizabeth Leighton, class of 1865), and Mrs. Mainwaring Johnson, (proxy for her daughter, a former pupil); Mrs. Frank Sehl and Mrs. Walter Fraser. A little group of former Nanaimo students who were associated with Sister Mary Theodore during her regime in the northern city included Mrs. Cunningham, who, as Miss Ma Maguire, was the first to enter her name on the register of that school after the convent was opened under the direction of Sister Mary of the Sacred Cross; Miss Meyer, one of the seven girls who opened the convent doors; Mrs. Hensell, of Tacoma (formerly Miss Jane Wignell); Mrs. Pease (Miss Emily Wignell); Mrs. Rathorn (Miss Mary Crockett), and the Misses Agnes and Margaret Gibson.

BUSTS OF FOUNDER
After the formal reception, adjournment was made to the spacious auditorium in which a place of honor was given to the two handsome busts, on pedestals, representing the Order. A card on each bore the statement that they were presented by the Mother House of the Order at Lechmere, Quebec, to Sister Mary Bridget and Mary Lucy in commemoration of their diamond jubilee. A delightful programme included a cantata, "Song of Welcome," sung by former students of the 'eighties and 'nineties, including four Sisters Religious, the song being one that was taught by Sister Mary Lucy thirty years ago. Another pretty little tribute was delicately conveyed when Mrs. Frank Sehl and Mrs. Walter Fraser played as a duet, Sister Mary Bridget and Sister Mary Lucy, who were taught them by Sister Mary Lucy in their school-days at St. Ann.

DEDICATORY POEM
A poem dedicated to the Sisters, and specially composed by Mrs. Matz Rathorn, a former Nanaimo student, was read, and Mrs. Rathorn, who had previously presented each of the five Sisters with a quaint Colonial bouquet, was introduced to the assembly. Sister Mary Theodore, Miss M. Carty, elocutionist, Miss Doris Wilbers, A.T. C.M. pianist, and Miss Adele Herlietta, pianist, were Vancouver students whose presence on the programme was a tribute to Sister Mary Lucy, who is now superior in the Convent School in the mainland city. Others on the programme whose numbers were much appreciated were Mrs. B. R. Ciceri and Mrs. Mitchell. Many eyes were dimmed as the notes of "Auld Lang Syne" rang out, the venerable Sisters and the older ex-pupils joining hands and singing a tribute to their beloved Alma Mater, St. Ann's.

TEA-SERVED
At the close of the programme delicious tea was served in the gymnasium, which was a bower of flowers for the occasion. At the head table were seated the pioneer Sisters and the Rev. Mother General, and the Rev. Mother Provincial together with some of the older ex-pupils. A replica of the first convent and school of the Order in Victoria formed the centerpiece while strands of silver and gold ribbon hung from a basket of sweet peas and gypsophylla.

The privilege of presiding at this table was accorded to Mrs. J. J. Sehl and Mrs. Walter Fraser, while Mrs. Herbert Leiser and Mrs. Whiteley of Keating presided at another of the honor tables. Obedience, the assembly included the Rev. Mother-General and two members of the Order of St. Joseph, who are here from New York.

PRESENTATION MADE
During the afternoon one of the members of the Alumnae of St. Joseph's presented to Sister Mary Anna, superintendent of nurses, a handsome club bag as a parting gift, with an expression of good wishes for her work at Juneau, Alaska, for which place she will leave to-morrow to take over the duties of Superior at the hospital there. Sister Mary Anna has been at St. Joseph's for the past twelve years.

The last ceremony of the day's celebrations took place in the Chapel at 6 o'clock when Rev. Mother General, the Rev. Mother Provincial, and the Rev. Mother Superior, who were present, pronounced the Benediction. The Chapel had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with flowers. The figures "40" in scarlet and gold over the high altar and "50" in gold letters lower down were connected with golden chains to pillars at the side on which were the dates "1874" and "1924." The beautiful and impressive little ceremony concluded a day which will live long in the memories of all who were privileged to attend as a red-letter occasion in the annals of the Order of St. Ann in British Columbia.

ENCOURAGEMENT

When I say good-bye to you this evening, I think it would be proper for me to place one reverent kiss upon your fair hand." "Well," she replied coquettishly, "I would consider it decidedly out of place."

Right Rev. Bishop O'Donnell thanked them on behalf of the priests who have gone before and said:

"Dare I speak for those who are not of my faith? Those mothers of the city who have gone before; those noble men who laid the foundations of your city, broad and strong and deep and lasting; men who by the self sacrifice of the knew how to appreciate what work was done by the self sacrifice of the Sisters of St. Ann; men who recognized that the Sisters devoted their lives to suffering humanity regardless of creed or nationality. As long as there was by a Sister of St. Ann, they knew that human misery would be relieved. It is but the meed of justice of those pioneers I dare therefore in their name congratulate the Sisters who loved them and who were loved by them."

SEA CADETS' BAND FOR WHOSE FUNDS ARION CLUB WILL GIVE CONCERT TO-NIGHT

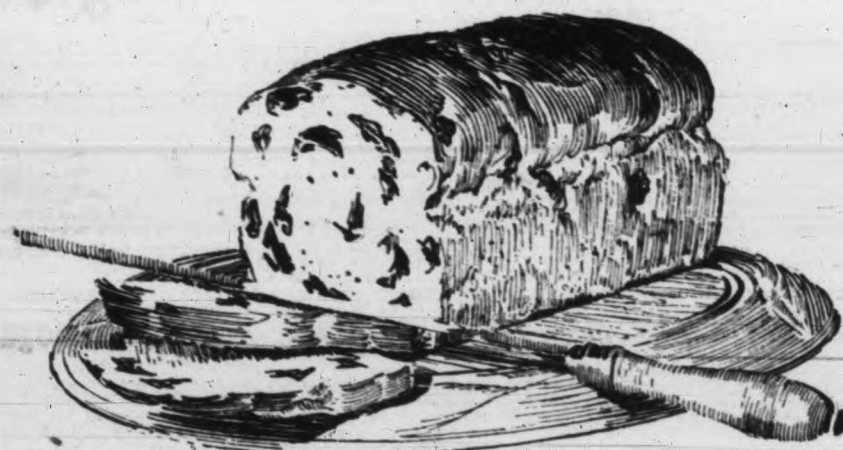

Much interest is being taken in the concert to be given by the Arion Club this evening at the Parliament Buildings. These concerts are purely voluntary on the part of the club members, but a collection is usually made in behalf of some popular local charitable or patriotic organization, so that, incidentally, many good causes have benefited by some thousand of dollars collected in this manner. On this occasion the Navy League of Canada, an organization which enjoys the hearty goodwill of all Victorians, will benefit by the money collected. The Sea Cadets' Band will add to the enjoyment by giving a preliminary concert from 7.45 to 8.30, when the Club concert will commence. These young lads have worked hard under a capable leader and will provide a most enjoyable preliminary concert. Everyone should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear these young musicians play. The assisting soloist for the Arion Club will be Miss Beatrice McDonald. Miss McDonald, who is a pupil of Mr. Gideon Hicks, so well known to all Victorians, is a young singer with a promising soprano voice. The Club soloist on this occasion will be Mr. George Guy, whose delightful tenor voice will be heard in that lovely old Irish air, "Hath Sorrow Thy Young Days Shaded," with a humming accompaniment by the club. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Herbert Kent, the Honorary Assistant Conductor, the Arion Club is giving a delightful programme which includes some of the most beautiful compositions in their large library of music, and those attending will be assured of a most enjoyable evening. The following is the full programme for the Club concert: Vocal March—"Our Duty Now Doth Call Us." "When Evening's Twilight Gathers Round." "Hath Sorrow Thy Young Days Shaded" (Tenor solo by G. Guy). "Cavaller's Song." "Dreaming." "Archer's Marching Song." Interval. "On the Sea." "The Silver Lanterns of the Night." Vocal Solo (selected)—Miss Beatrice McDonald. "Sylvia." "The Sands of Dee." Prayer of Thanksgiving. God Save the King.

CITY TO BANQUET BRITISH SCIENTISTS

Will Give Dinner at Chamber of Commerce to Delegates Visiting Victoria

A dinner in honor of the 200 scientists who will visit Victoria next month will be given by the city, the council decided at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon. The suggestion was brought before the council in a letter from the mayor stating that the delegates attending the conference of the British Association for the Advancement of Science and the International Mathematical Association would make a brief visit to Victoria. He thought Victoria should extend its hospitality to them and proposed a dinner at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Alderman Woodward moved that the mayor's suggestion be acted upon. Supporting the motion, Alderman Marchant said he believed a cordial welcome should be extended to such a distinguished body. Details were left to the Finance Committee and the Mayor with power to act.

IMPERSONATION OF TWO PRESIDENTS

Dramatic Recital of Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt

Rev. Dr. J. H. McLaren of Pasadena, California, who is spending this week in Victoria, will give a dramatic recital in Metropolitan Church on Thursday evening, consisting of a dramatic impersonation of two great American statesmen, Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt. This is said by many to be the greatest dramatic presentation given of these two personalities. It has been given in Pasadena twelve times in the last fifteen months to enthusiastic audiences. Dr. Frank Gunsaulus of Chicago says: "One of the finest things I have ever heard of." Dr. Ferris of San Diego says: "Lifting and inspiring. It did my soul good." Leading educationists, principals of colleges and high schools, editors and promoters of Chautauqua circles unite in declaring Dr. McLaren's recitals to be the best they have heard. Dr. McLaren was formerly pastor of Owen Lovejoy's Church, and has lived in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois, amid the scenes of the martyred presidents' birthplace. He is an intimate friend of the Roosevelt family, and was an assistant of the latter in pulp and on platform, and his presentation of Thursday night will make Lincoln and Roosevelt "Live again, step forth and speak."

California Stars Show Their Class In Opening Round

Casey Looms up as Favorite For Men's Singles in B.C. Net Tourney

Miss Leeming Back From Toronto, Wins First Match; Large Crowd Attends

The B.C. lawn tennis championships, played on the excellent turf courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club, began yesterday in fair tennis weather. There was a large and appreciative audience on hand to witness the opening matches, many of which were very close and went to three sets.

In the men's singles MacIntyre came from behind to defeat Christie in a three-set struggle by a score of 1-6, 6-2, 6-4. H. D. Auning took the measure of "Renny" Kingham in a three-hour match, 6-4, 9-11, 9-7. "Jimmy" Cunningham, a sterling young junior player of great promise, was defeated in three sets by R. Mackenzie whose form was the best he has shown this year. His forehand and backhand shots were hitting the side lines with uncanny regularity.

CASEY SHOWS HIS FORM

Ray Casey made his first appearance in Victoria when he met R. M. Hurd of New York in his first round singles. He showed all kinds of class and appears to be the favorite for the title. He easily defeated Hurd 6-2, 6-2, his terrific serves and overhead work being too much for the New York man.

"Bud" Chandler, one of the finest junior players ever produced in the United States, came through his round without being extended. Last year "Bud" was runner-up to George Lott for the national junior championship of the United States.

Nell Brown, who with Bud Chandler, won the main doubles championship in Vancouver on Saturday last, won his first round match, dropping only three games in two sets.

MISS LEEMING HOME

Miss Leeming made her first appearance since her return from the East, when partnered with E. E. "Squack" McCallum, they romped through their first round in easy fashion, beating Miss Bryant and Colman.

The best match in the mixed doubles was between Miss Lawson and Mackenzie and Miss Tatlow and "Marsh" Gordon. The latter pair won two well played sets. Gordon's volleying was a feature of the match. The results were as follows:

Men's Singles

French Davis Cup Team Eliminates British Players

Eastbourne, Eng., July 29.—The French tennis team today won the semi-final with Great Britain in the European zone Davis Cup competition and France will meet Czechoslovakia in the final of the European group.

The French team had previously won the first two singles matches and Jean Jacques Brugnon and Jean Borotra of France defeated L. A. Godfree and Max Woosnam of Great Britain in the doubles, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Great Field Of Golfers To Seek Canadian Crown

Walter Hagen Says It's Only Title of Importance He Hasn't Captured

Montreal, Que., July 29.—The Canadian open golf championship, to be staged this year August 1 and 2 at the wonder course of the Mount Bruno Club will probably attract the best field which has ever entered this competition.

Walter Hagen, the United States professional, who this year won the British open, is going to try and win this championship as it is the only national event of importance that he has not annexed. With him will come from across the line Clarence Hackney, who won the title last year with a score of 295, Joe Kirkwood, and Macdonald Smith.

Cyril Walker, who won the U.S. open title this year, will also play. Hobby Cruickshank will be along as well. Other American entrants include Al Watrous, 1922 open champion, and Johnny Farrell of New York, who finished fifth last year.

AMERICANS ALWAYS WIN

Each of the last five championships—since it was re-instituted in 1913—has been won by an entrant from the United States. Clarence Hackney, with 295, captured it last year, when the highest Canadian was Andrew Weir of Toronto, in sixth place. The last Canadian to win the open championship was Karl Keffer of Ottawa, the title-winner in 1914.

United States entrants are going to meet stern competition at the hands of at least one Canadian golfer—Charles R. Murray, Royal Montreal, champion of Quebec and senior Canadian amateur, who recently won the 1923 open championship of the Dominion. The list of past winners of this championship and their scores follows:

BIG ENTRY EXPECTED

All the leading professional golfers in Canada, it is anticipated, will be entrants in the 1924 open, as well as the leading amateurs of the Dominion. The list of past winners of this championship and their scores follows:

Year	Winner	Score
1904	J. H. Oke, Montreal	156
1905	G. Cumming, Toronto	143
1906	C. R. Murray, Ottawa	170
1907	Percy Barrett, Lambton	190
1908	Albert Murray, Montreal	200
1909	Karl Keffer, Toronto	209
1910	Daniel Kenny, Lambton	203
1911	C. R. Murray, Ottawa	214
1912	G. Sargent, Lambton	229
1913	Albert Murray, Montreal	225
1914	Karl Keffer, Toronto	200
1915-1918	No championship owing to Great War.
1919	Douglas Edgar, Hamilton	278
1920	Douglas Edgar, Ottawa	293
1921	W. H. Trovinger, Ottawa	293
1922	Al Watrous, Montreal	295
1923	Clarence Hackney, Toronto	295

*Changed to 72 holes.

Los Angeles, July 29.—With the Rancho Country Club golf tournament scheduled, Southern California golfers yesterday centred their interest in the approaching invitational tournament at the Wilshire Country Club. Play at Wilshire will open August 5 and continue through the tenth. The first two days will be devoted to qualifying rounds.

OF INTEREST TO AUTO TOURISTS

In arranging your summer trip, you will be pleased to learn that effective July 3, there will be two sailing ships, the Motor Princess between Bellingham and Sidney, leaving Sidney for Bellingham at 10:45 a.m. and 4:10 p.m., from Bellingham to Sidney at 7 a.m. and 1 p.m., daily, including Sunday.

If you have not made the circuit, which you can do by also including the trip between Vancouver and Nanaimo, with sailings from Vancouver at 5 a.m. and 1 p.m. (for all-sized cars), 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. (for smaller cars), daily except Sunday; sailings at 5 a.m. and 1 p.m. (for all-sized cars), from Nanaimo to Vancouver at 7 a.m. daily except Sunday and Monday; and sailings from Vancouver at 5 a.m. and 1 p.m. (for all-sized cars), 11 p.m. daily except Sunday and Monday; and sailings from Nanaimo at 5 a.m. and 1 p.m. (for all-sized cars), 11 p.m. daily except Sunday and Monday.

Ponies Ready To Face "The Gate" At Willows Track

Fine Thoroughbreds Will Run in Opening Races To-morrow Afternoon

Closely Contested Events Expected; Good Class of Jockeys Await Mounts

To-morrow afternoon at the Willows the ponies will begin kicking up the dirt.

There are nearly five hundred thoroughbreds at the stables awaiting the call to "saddle up" and face the barrier. Included in this number, which is the greatest ever quartered at the Willows track, are some high-class performers.

The officials predict a splendid week's racing. There will be large fields and every race will be contested down to the ground, they state. With such fine ponies ready to face the gate it is only fair to assume that the races should be close and that few events should result in a runaway.

NOT ENOUGH STABLES

So many horses were brought here that the ordinary stable accommodation was found insufficient and yesterday and to-day a gang of men has been busy improvising stables out of other accommodation.

Officials of the races spent a busy time last night and this morning attending to the many details in connection with the opening. The stables for to-morrow's races were received this morning and weights announced.

Some of the horses that will appear here for the first time include Golden Cup, a French-bred horse, which was shipped to Calgary. Mr. Barnard has brought the three-year-old to this city and predicts that she will be well up in all the feature races this year. Motor Cop, the horse which Commander J. K. L. Ross of Montreal paid $10,000 for, is also quartered here. Pawnbroke, recently acquired by Tom Weeks of Nanaimo, will be another starter this year. Jockeys include Thompson, De Beers, which the Prince of Wales shipped to Canada.

Col. Boyle, of the Addison stable, is also here. Jockeys are coming back to try his luck on the half-mile track.

To make a successful drive there must be a long follow through. The weak hitter cannot hope to obtain a long follow through with a heavy ball and the hard hitter finds the light ball just as much a handicap in the opposite way.

GOOD RIDERS HERE

A fine list of jockeys will be ready to ride the ponies out over any distance.

Petrol, who made his bow to the racing public at Colwood last month, has arrived as well as Padden, a Kentucky boy, who shows lots of class, and Garner, a brother of the boy who rode in Memorial in the memorable race with Zev last fall. Greenwood, who rode here last year, returns a much improved rider, while other jockeys include Thompson, McDonald, Molter, Hicks, Dellow and Barnham.

Creery, the little Victoria rider, is also here. He has recovered from his split at Hastings Park last week and is ready to answer a call for a mount. Creery is very popular here. His parents reside in the city.

Sons Walloped Spencers Nine In Second Game

Canadians Scored 12-3 Victory in Rithet Cup Series; Third Game Necessary

Securing nine runs in the first three innings the Native Sons of Canada went so far into the lead that they were able to hand Spencers a ball game 12-3 trouncing at the Royal Athletic Park last night in the second game of the Rithet Cup series. As a result of their win the Sons now own even terms with the department, each team having won one game, and a third and deciding battle will be staged on August 6.

In last night's game Spencers started slowly in the first inning. Post, the first man to bat singled and a walk and another single sent over one run. Snappy play by the Sons' infield retired the side with no further scoring. In their half of the inning the Canadians secured a couple of hits and two errors by Spencers allowed three runs to cross the rubber.

In the second inning the Sons' heavy hitters landed on Stewart's offering for four hits and three more counters were chased across. In the third inning the Sons' batsmen were again successful, producing another three runs. Spencers were held scoreless during these innings. In the fourth a hit and a couple of bloopers sent another run for the Canadians, while in the fifth the Native Sons brought their total up to twelve with another lone tally.

SPENCERS' RALLY NIPPED

In the seventh Spencers started a fine rally. The first four batters hit safely and these coupled with a couple of walks, accounted for two runs. Great work by the Sons' infield retired the side with no further scoring.

Cameron, who was on the mound for the Sons, was inclined to be wild but he was given excellent support by his teammates in the field. Not a single run was scored by Spencers in the first three innings they were knocked to every corner of the

Pictorial Golf Instruction

By H. B. MARTIN

A Debatable Question

The United States Golf Association is about to adopt a larger and lighter ball, which should favor the average golfer more than it does the professional or low handicap amateur.

A lighter ball is wound less tightly, therefore the compression is greater and it naturally follows that it will respond to the blow of a light hitter, much quicker than the small heavy ball.

It is the general opinion of the experts that the larger and lighter ball will be too mushy when terrific force is applied. This means a loss of yardage. The pro hitting the small ball a hard blow will compress it sufficiently to cause a rebound such as the weak hitter can obtain with the lighter ball.

To make a successful drive there must be a long follow through. The weak hitter cannot hope to obtain a long follow through with a heavy ball and the hard hitter finds the light ball just as much a handicap in the opposite way.

Thus we find the golfer confronted with this question: Should there be a ball to suit both types of players, or should there be only one standard ball and which should it favor, the star player or the average golfer?

Maritime Athletes Score Officials of Canuck Olympic Team

St. John, N.B., July 29.—Charges made by Victor Macaulay, of Windsor, N.S., that Maritime Olympic team athletes did not receive proper consideration from Canadian Olympic officials will not be investigated to the limit by A. W. Covey, president of the Maritime Provincial Athletic Union of Canada, the latter said yesterday.

He declared Macaulay had informed him that other Canadian Olympic athletes besides members of the Maritime contingent were dissatisfied with treatment accorded them by those in charge of the Canadian team, and were prepared to back up their charges with official statements.

Macaulay particularly mentioned Captain J. R. Cornelius, head coach, although he said P. J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic team, and William Hughes, athletic instructor at Queen's University, should also be forced to shoulder their share of the burden.

The Maritime men were stationed at a hotel fifteen miles from the Olympic grounds, he said. Captain Cornelius and other Canadian officials were quartered three miles from the Olympic grounds and they took no interest in the manner in which the Maritimers were observing their rules of training. "I was forced to wear a pair of running shoes two sizes too large for me in the marathon race, and when I approached Capt. Cornelius about another pair he evinced no interest," said Macaulay.

CHILEAN HAS A SHADE

Yankees Regain First Place In American League

Won Double-Header From Chicago While Washington And Detroit Lost

Giants Shut Out For Second Time This Season; Pirates And Reds Win

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Cleveland, July 29.—Cleveland made it two out of three from Washington yesterday when Coveleskie outpitched Mogridge. Cleveland won, 2 to 1. Speaker scored in the first inning on his triple and steal of home.

Detroit, July 29.—Bishop's single after Bruggy had walked and been sacrificed to second and Lemar's homer in the eleventh, gave Philadelphia the run for a 7 to 4 victory over Detroit here yesterday.

YANKS WIN TWO

Chicago, July 29.—New York went back into the first place in the close American League pennant race by winning both games of a double header yesterday from Chicago by scores of 8 to 3 and 12 to 10, respectively, while Detroit was beaten by Philadelphia. "Babe" Ruth came up with Mike Cuyegros on the hill in the second game and cracked out his third-first homer of the season. Two men were on base.

Both Joe Bayley and Billy Allan are trained to a hairline for their clash to-morrow night at the Armory. As with all ex-champs the burning question is: "Can they come back?"

Both principals are sure that they can come back. "We are there now," either of them will tell you. Bayley claims and looks as if he is in the best of condition. Allan has never been out of condition. His fight career was only interrupted by the war and during the war he kept right in the pink as a boxing instructor and bayonet fighting chief. Incidentally he tackled a lot of the hard boys in bouts during that time. He has the glow of health and the speed of a featherweight. His battered sparring partners show what he packs in his punch.

SAME OLD STYLE

Bayley in his workouts hasn't changed his style of fighting. He is still the aggressive Joe, out to stretch his arm on the canvas from the top of the song.

Speculation is rife as to how long the boy will go and it is generally conceded that it will go the full ten rounds. Bayley expects to finish it early, but he may view too lightly the ring cunning and speed of his experienced opponent.

Interest is running higher in the fight than it has done in any ring bouts in years. There is every indication of a well-filled house.

A WILD RALLY

St. Louis, July 29.—Robertson's double in the ninth tied the score for the Browns but the Boston Red Sox came back in the tenth, winning the tenth, winning yesterday's game, 10 to 5. Shocker pitched almost perfect ball in the first six innings but weakened in the seventh, allowing five hits for three runs.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn, July 29.—After Osborne had allowed three runs on a single, a sacrifice fly and five passes with two out in the first inning, "Rube" Ehrhardt, Brooklyn recruit from Lakeand, Pa., made his debut yesterday and blanked the Reds with three hits during the remainder of the game.

CUBS HIT WELL BUT LOOSE

Philadelphia, July 29.—The Chicago Cubs lost a hard hitting contest to Philadelphia yesterday, 12 to 11. Both teams used four pitchers and all were hit freely. Going into the ninth, five runs behind, the Cubs made a desperate rally but fell short by a run.

Major Cobbett, captain of the Incogs, and "Rube" Wenger, one of the best bats in the West; Dobbie, the fine bowler, bowler, and Leighton of Nanaimo who ranks as one of the top bowlers in the Province.

SEVEN STRAIGHT FOR YDE

Boston, July 29.—Pitcher Yde of Pittsburgh held Boston to seven hits yesterday and won his game, 5 to 3, and ran his string of straight victories to seven. The Pirates made five double plays.

TRYING A COMEBACK

Joe Bayley and Billy Allan

Both Joe Bayley and Billy Allan are trained to a hairline for their clash to-morrow night at the Armory. As with all ex-champs the burning question is: "Can they come back?"

Both principals are sure that they can come back. "We are there now," either of them will tell you. Bayley claims and looks as if he is in the best of condition. Allan has never been out of condition. His fight career was only interrupted by the war and during the war he kept right in the pink as a boxing instructor and bayonet fighting chief. Incidentally he tackled a lot of the hard boys in bouts during that time. He has the glow of health and the speed of a featherweight. His battered sparring partners show what he packs in his punch.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Hampshire Road Ladies' Aid garden party will be held to-morrow afternoon, from 3 to 6, in the grounds of 1227 Oak Bay Avenue.

A roof fire at 1935 Brighton Street at 9.37 and a grass fire near 141 Gorge Road at 9.56 gave the Fire Department two runs in close succession this morning. The damage was slight.

In connection with the Summer School an illustrated lecture will be given at the High School this evening at 8 o'clock by A. H. Maynard on the "Early Days of B.C." The public is cordially invited.

The members of the Victoria Unit Army and Navy Veterans in Canada are requested to attend the funeral of the late Comrade A. A. Page on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street.

British nationality proved an unfortunate blessing for a woman in police court this morning charged with being drunk in public. Under the Indian Act the accused has on former occasions been fined $5 for such a luxury. Now married to a white man, however, the accused takes on the nationality of her husband, and the fine was raised to $25, with the option of ten days in jail.

Following a raid by Chief Fry and Detective Phillips, McLellan and Stark on a boathouse shack on the water line of the Inner Harbor near the C.N.R. terminus last night, two men and one woman appeared in city police court to-day charged with possession of opium. Maud Delmar, W. F. Delmar and R. C. Graham, the accused, pleaded not guilty and were remanded for hearing on Wednesday.

At the June examinations in piano-forte held in Victoria by the Canadian Academy and Toronto College of Music the following pupils of Mrs. T. W. Cornett, Pandora Avenue, were successful. Grade I (elementary), Maurice Foster, Kathleen Armstrong, Delphia Smith and Muriel Smith, honors. Grade II (preparatory), Harry Smith and Marjorie Foster. First-class honors, Juanita Cathcart, grade III, Margaret Pringle and Grace Genn, honors.

Induced by the dry weather and a light wind the troubles of the Fire Department increased to-day. Two fires at 9 o'clock were followed by another double call at 11.50 when the old tannery building on Bay Street was reported alight. At the same moment the engines had a call to a fire at Dallas Road and Simcoe Street, where another blaze was going. The fire at the tannery was extinguished in a few minutes. The fire at Dallas Road and Simcoe Street was also extinguished. The fire at the tannery was extinguished in a few minutes. The fire at Dallas Road and Simcoe Street was also extinguished.

LITTLE PROGRESS AT ALLIED CONFERENCE

London, July 29.—The Inter-allied Conference dragged wearily along to-day with little progress observable toward the goal of its ambitious—the launching of the Dawes report. The objective becomes more obvious on some days than on others in the maze of discussions through which diplomacy moves to accomplish its ends and to-day was one of the murky sort.

FRENCH PLAN AWAITED

With the proposals of Premier Theunis of Belgium and Colonel James A. Logan, the United States official observer, before them as known factors, the delegates are eager to receive the promised formula of the French, and to co-ordinate all three into something tangible for consideration when the full committee on defaults on penalties meets again to-morrow.

RUHR EVACUATION

Although it is admitted on all sides that the troublesome question of the military evacuation of the Ruhr is outside the purview of the present conference, which has limited its task to the strictly economic question of launching the Dawes report, nevertheless the problem of withdrawing the military forces from the Ruhr has become the "banquo's ghost" which refuses to quit this diplomatic feast.

NOT TO BE POSTPONED

Now that it is definitely known that the Germans shortly will be called into the conference, it is felt the question of military evacuation can not be postponed altogether until the next conference. This question, indeed, already is one of the topics most earnestly discussed wherever members of the conference gather, and the letters understood to have been exchanged on the subject between Premier MacDonald and Premier Herriot give added interest to these conversations. The British delegates express belief that the Germans will ask for a definite date for the military evacuation. The conference discussions of the evacuation, however, are informal, as the British and United States observers point out that the subject brings into prominence the always formidable figure of Premier Herriot's political opponent, Raymond Poincare.

CITY'S DESTINY IN PEOPLE'S HANDS

Victoria Has Great Future in Development Along Proper Lines

The dependence of Victoria upon development of Vancouver Island as the chief basis of its prosperity was emphasized by B. C. Nicholas in a brief address to the Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon to-day. The speaker pointed out that Vancouver Island was destined to play a part of ever growing importance in the economic life of Western Canada, its resources were so large and varied as to admit of extraordinary expansion and within a comparatively short time there was certain to be somewhere on the island a big and rapidly growing centre.

Mr. Nicholas commented upon the fatalistic complacency which accepted for Victoria a position of inferiority in material development to places on the mainland of British Columbia and the State of Washington because of their proximity to the land. He pointed out that the proximity of New York to Philadelphia, not more than four hours distance by train, did not prevent the growth of the city of Philadelphia, a close connection between Philadelphia and Baltimore did not prevent Baltimore from becoming one of the largest cities in the United States. He said that only six miles from San Francisco but its growth in recent years is one of the most conspicuous features of California.

NOT PLAYGROUND

The speaker referred to the conviction which seemed to exist in some quarters that Vancouver Island communities should concentrate upon making the island a playground for Canada, and he pointed out that this was impossible, for it conflicted with the most urgent necessities of the time, and was the necessity for work and not for play. If Canada was to rehabilitate herself in an economic way.

Vancouver Island, he said, possessed in abundance the raw material for which there was a growing world need, and it would be impossible to prevent the island from becoming a part of the island into a great industrial workshop, to which the mining industry, in a variety of phases, the lumbering industry and the fishing industry would contribute. The object of the publicity campaign conducted by this city was the ultimate settlement of the island, and the people of the island of whom necessarily would desire to busy themselves with serious pursuits of some kind for their health's sake, and to induce them to amuse themselves in recreation.

WATER SUPPLY FOR IRRIGATION

He spoke of the great value to be derived from assisting the people of the Saanich Peninsula and other fertile districts adjoining this city, in the profitable development of the land. He also saw an opening for progress in the development of the greater Victoria scheme, and the conditions as would react to the advantage of each municipality involved.

TO TURN CARPENTERS

Carl Stocker warned the members of the club to be prepared at a moment's notice to don overalls and take a hammer and a pocketful of nails and come and assist him to build several archways of rough logs which would be placed at the various entrances to the city. This community spirit, said Mr. Stocker, would prove the salvation of Victoria, and the turn-out of Kiwanians and other citizens to the city.

ALIMONY ORDERED

Mr. Justice McDonald pointed out that he had already, in a previous case, ordered the husband to pay alimony of $500 a month until the case was tried.

JUDGE REJECTED TO MAKE ORDER ASKED

Rattenbury Case Heard by Mr. Justice McDonald in Vancouver

Vancouver, July 29.—A husband can not make it impossible for a wife to live in his house.

This was the contention of Robert Cassidy, K.C., to Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald here to-day when counsel sought an order establishing the right of Mrs. Florence Eleanor Rattenbury to reside in a house at 1701 Beach Drive, Victoria, owned by Francis Mawson Rattenbury.

There are two actions pending between the couple. In one Mrs. Rattenbury seeks dissolution of their marriage and in the other she seeks to establish her right to enjoyment of the husband's house.

Mr. Cassidy stated to Mr. Justice McDonald that Rattenbury had removed most of the furniture from the house, including his wife's bed, but Mrs. Rattenbury remained with her daughter.

FLOUR UP AGAIN TO-DAY; OTHER PRICES MAY ALSO SOAR

Boost in the price of bread here was made certain to-day as a result of another 20-cent advance in the price of flour announced by the millers. Bread in Vancouver was put up one cent a loaf at a meeting of bakers last night. That brings it up to the present Victoria basis, which is 9 cents for an 18-ounce loaf. The Vancouver price has been running one cent a loaf below Victoria. Cut-rate bakers here, however, have been selling bread at from 5 to 8 cents a loaf.

Victoria bakers at their meeting last night had not received notice of the Vancouver increase. They expect formal notice today when they will take action. The increased Victoria price will be 10 cents a loaf. It was said by members of the trade to-day, nothing else was done under wheat.

To-day's increase in the price of flour is the fifth 20-cent jump flour has taken since July 14. It means that flour has gone up $1.70 a barrel since the advance in wheat started on June 10. It makes the present retail price of flour $14.40 a sack of 49 pounds.

Wheat prices in Winnipeg and Chicago rested to-day, while corn soared into new high ground.

H. H. Stevens, M.P. former Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Dominion Cabinet, returning to the Coast from Ottawa and last night issued a statement on the grain situation in which he predicts that the prices of meats and other commodities will soar as well as wheat and corn.

"Increase in the price of wheat is not due to manipulation of the market," Mr. Stevens said. "Increase in the prices of meats will inevitably follow the increase in the price of wheat. Reduced acreage under wheat in the big producing countries of the world, coupled with the fact that Canada's crop will, it is estimated, be from 100,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels less than last year, are the factors chiefly responsible for the rise in the market."

"Abnormally low prices for wheat, cattle and hogs during the past few years produced a condition in Western Canada and the Western States almost reaching the proportion of a national disaster."

"Increases in prices now taking place or about to take place will serve as a partial liquidation of the disaster."

B.C. Tennis Championship Matches Keenly Contested

Keen competition featured the matches played this morning in the British Columbia lawn tennis championships now being staged on the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. Six men and two women celebrating a merry reunion in the presence of open beer bottles led to a raid by police officers on premises at No. 3 Oriental Alley yesterday, according to evidence given by Sergeant Heatley and city constables before Magistrate Jay in police court this morning. Alfred Weston, charged with permitting drunkenness on the premises, pleaded not guilty, through R. C. Lowe. The accused was sober, said the Sergeant. Others present had entered more into the spirit of the reunion, he intimated. At the close of the hearing Magistrate Jay dismissed the charge against accused.

CANADIAN COWBOYS ARE DISSATISFIED

Pte. Vandermeer, Champion, Says $5,000 Bet Not Paid at Wembley

Calgary, July 29.—According to Pete Vandermeer, champion bucking horse rider of the Wembley Rodeo, he received only $100 for his work at the exhibition. He says he rode a horse a day for the first seven days of the contest, and according to some of the cowboys who accompanied him home to Alberta, made wonderful rides. When the prize lists appeared at the close of the performance, Vandermeer's name did not appear, and neither did any of the other Canadian cowboys. This continued for nearly two weeks, and the champion was refused to continue. Then came the climax.

"They trotted out an Australian named 'Snowy' Thompson, and his backer, Hugh McIntosh, a well-known Australian sportsman, offered to back him for $5,000 against any rider at the rodeo," Vandermeer said. "I accepted the challenge and so did Howard Tegland, of New York. One of the stipulations was that all riders should have an 'A' class saddle. I did not expect this, but decided to see it through. I was pretty well disgusted by this time and if they had trotted out those bronks with 'A' class side-saddles, on I think I would have taken a chance. The guys that were running the racket were wise. They extended the show over the day period, and we were to ride a bronk a day.

"The English people came out in their thousands and the big show was on.

"Well, I climbed the chutes and tried to settle myself in this pancake of a saddle. I did not know where to put my legs, so I said to myself, 'Pete, you've got to scratch this old horse so hard you won't have time to fall off,' and that's just what I did. On the third jump I was still on, so I kicked the bronk around the ears and then here I was astir as if I'd ridden in this saddle all my life."

Tegland also stayed on and so did Snowy Thompson. This was repeated the second night and finally the third night came.

"They picked out three of the worst horses in the show for the final, and they turned him loose and I did the third jump Hegland went sailing off and broke a couple of fingers and sprained his leg in falling.

"Snowy Thompson landed three jumps and he hit the ground so hard he was unconscious for three-quarters of an hour.

"By this time I was looking for a soft place to land, but when they finally called my name I made up my mind that I would stay on that bronk if it was the last thing I did. They turned him loose and I started scratching. He bucked clear across the arena and when I climbed down those English people sure gave me a great hand. I was introduced to the crowd as the international champion and then after the shouting had died down and the prizes were being awarded, they handed me $100—after riding for a $5,000 side bet.

UNFAIRNESS ALLEGED

"I was mad clear through. I went after Tex Austin and Ad Day, but they said they could not find the man who put up the money and after some further discussion I decided there was nothing for it but to grin and bear it.

"The Canadian boys got a dirty deal all through."

After disembarking at New York last week, Austin, so Vandermeer claims, refused to provide transportation to Calgary as called for by the contract, so the cowboys appealed to the British consulate in New York for assistance. The consul visited Austin at his office and half an hour later the boys were on the train on the last lap of their journey home. Austin is a United States promoter and Day is a Toronto man.

Father—"I don't know what I've ever made of that shiftless son of mine."

The Price of Carelessness

BLOWS THINGS UP.—The devastating effects likely to be produced by modern air-bombs on capital ships is strikingly pictured here. Nothing could be more illuminating as a text on the value of the aeroplane during war than this picture showing a direct hit on the fire control platform during U.S. bombing tests.

CAN HE DO IT?—Lieutenant James H. Doolittle of McCook Field, Dayton, who in 1922 earned the title of "The Elmer of the Night," when he made the first one-stop transcontinental flight on record, has asked permission to fly from San Francisco to Honolulu. It is a 2600-mile jump. He is confident he can negotiate it by winging his way in the high altitudes.

FOREST FIRE IN THE MOUNTAINS THIS SUMMER

Fighting a forest fire is hard, hot, dirty work. These men are clearing a lane through the woods which the raging fire cannot jump. They use fire to fight fire, burning the barren strip through the timber. Motorists or any other person passing through the fire district now have to fight fires, under new laws, or go to jail.

After the holocaust. Acre after acre of fine old trees are left a tangle of charred and broken timbers—because some careless camper left a fire burning or a smoker threw a burning match into the brush.

"DAD" COOLIDGE VISITS WHITE HOUSE.—The Coolidge family poses on the White House lawn for the first time since the arrival of the president's father (seated on left) who came for his first White House visit following the death of Calvin Jr.

TAKES HIGH STAND.—Premier Hertzog of South Africa, who declares that he will follow the principle of a non-party government. When a government assumes office, he says, it should cease to have anything but a formal connection with the party to which its members formerly belonged.

UNDERTAKER GRIEVED.—Reginald R. Moore, Toronto undertaker, is suing the city through Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, medical officer of health. He claims to have contracted smallpox when sent to a house where a woman died, ostensibly from measles. The smallpox, he claims, has disfigured his face to such an extent that his business has been seriously affected.

GERMANY'S DELEGATE.—Foreign Minister Stresemann, who has been waiting for the official allied invitation to come to the London conference as head of the German delegation.

CHAMPION HELEN.—Helen Wills, youthful Californian tennis star, who defeated all rivals and won the finals of the women's singles in the Olympic tennis.

"CANADA" IN THE OLYMPIC PARADE.—The athletes from the Dominion, parading in the Columbus Stadium, led by Captain Cornelius Hamilton, the coach of the track and field men.

STORY OF CUBA'S SMUGGLED ALIENS IN PICTURES.—Upper left is Animas Street in Havana where headquarters of the smuggling gang is located. On the right are aliens earning their livelihood until it is their turn to be smuggled into the United States. Below are shown schooners of the type used to smuggle rum and aliens. To those barred from America by the quota law, they make their appeal for 10,000 francs (about $200) they offer to put them ashore in the United States. The profits of the smuggling gang run about $100 a head. The "average" number of aliens landed monthly on the American coast is 700. Many of those so landed are caught, and, penniless, are deported to their homeland, there to live or starve. But their fate does not act as a deterrent on those others who hunger for a land of peace and freedom. Business is good with the Havana smugglers—their victims are waiting—waiting—waiting.

"Only time will tell," Natalie replied enigmatically.

In some manner Trent seemed to have made an impression that the world held just Natalie and himself. Natalie was amused at this bold treatment of Jeannette Amory, but she was a trifle apprehensive, too, for to flout Mrs. Amory was to make an enemy of her, and Natalie knew from experience how dangerous she could be.

A CONFESSION

With Trent himself, Natalie was having little trouble. Since that moonlit night in the garden in Italy, he had not attempted to overstep the mark. Though he was Natalie who had his eyes with every intonation of his voice, with the caressing, lingering touch of his fingers on hers, he kept himself in hand very carefully. He had no intention of rushing into a decision. The experienced lover in him assured him that he was sure to win in the end, but the sophisticated man of the world about him rather enjoyed the novelty of beauty, sweetness and aloofness.

The fact that she kept him at arm's length, that she would not let him see her, that he could well postpone the inevitable moment of her yielding for the joy which his anticipation brought him. Also, he had no intention of rushing into a decision. The experienced lover in him assured him that he was sure to win in the end, but the sophisticated man of the world about him rather enjoyed the novelty of beauty, sweetness and aloofness.

He had quickly, and of course erroneously, sized up the Sheldon's marital situation. He believed that was Natalie who had his eyes with every intonation of his voice, with the caressing, lingering touch of his fingers on hers, he kept himself in hand very carefully. He had no intention of rushing into a decision. The experienced lover in him assured him that he was sure to win in the end, but the sophisticated man of the world about him rather enjoyed the novelty of beauty, sweetness and aloofness.

MUSICAL NOTES

By GEORGE J. DYKE

The British Empire Pageant at Wembley has now begun in which 15,000 people take part. State elephants of India's richest princes take part in the staging of this wonderful spectacle and zebras, camels and tigers appear in the scenes. This pageant will be continued for thirty-six days and men and women prominent in London's social life will take part. The Government has promised companies of cavalry, infantry and artillery, which will parade in the different episodes. Included in the program will be the discovery of Newfoundland, Canada's early French settlers and the soldiers of Wolfe and Montcalm. Frank Lascelles, known to the people of Quebec for his skill for pageantry is the pageant master-in-chief of this great London production.

Young Clynes, son of the Lord Privy Seal is exceedingly fond of music. He is a talented pianist and student of music composition. His recent work, "The Music of the Future," is said to be full of promise and has a sense of style and musicianship.

Cecil Sharp, a director of the English Folk-dance Society, is one of the greatest authorities on folk-songs. During the past years he has written a number of compositions based on these fascinating and interesting songs of different nations.

The National opera house in Prague was built by the people with toil and sacrifice in the eighties as a protest against Austrian rule, and in the Austria granted political freedom to Bohemia. Since that time many festivals have been held in this historic building and a few weeks ago witnessed therein the third festival of the International Society for Contemporary Music, proceeded with a week's festival in commemoration of the great Bohemian composer Bedrich Smetana. The "Jury" on this occasion comprised three international composers of repute among whom was Eugene Goossens of London, who assisted in the selection of the program which included a work written by the English composer Arnold Bax's "E Flat Symphony" written in October 1922, which found unusually warm response from the big audience.

Vienna is still one of Europe's musical centres. Its last season was a long and hard one for all concerned, and the performances have been of a high order. The Viennese have always conserved all that is good in the past, and are no doubt anxious in the present to discover those works which are the essence of immortality to add to their store.

The Los Angeles Times says that free symphony concerts for children will be important features of the Summer concerts in the Hollywood Bowl this year. Thousands of crippled, blind-mutes, orphans and others from Los Angeles institutions will be transported to the Bowl to listen to the free performances.

THOUGHTLESS FOOL BLAMED FOR FIRE, DESOLATION, DEATH

By P. J. SINNOTT

San Francisco, July 29.—Death and desolation are racing along through the West with "The Thoughtless Fool."

Scores already are dead, scores more are missing, thousands of vacationists are in imminent danger, whole towns are being wiped out, and millions of dollars worth of fine old timber is being laid low.

And the blame—or most of it—is being laid at the door of "The Thoughtless Fool," as the smoke from dozens of forest fires rolls upward as incense from the sacrifice to the Fire God.

Education has been under way for some time to convert "The Thoughtless Fool" into a safe member of society. A lessening number of forest fires each year was pointed to as the result.

It took a dry year like the present to prove this all wrong. As soon as the vacation season called autoists and other campers into the open, fires began. And they have continued unabated; beaten down by one point only to break out anew at another.

Jail sentences are now being meted out to those who smoke in the forest reserves. And the millionaire tourist, the hobo, the ranch hand and city vacationists alike are subject to conscription to save the virgin forests.

On July 15, a total of 339 forest fires were reported to forest service officials. Of these, 659 were due entirely to carelessness. A vast land of forest reserves, supplemented by army airplanes and the radio battle doggedly on every western front—but "The Thoughtless Fool" keeps just ahead of them, and weary workers are finding it only to be rushed to fight another.

Demoralization is the aftermath in many communities. Every able-bodied man must spend long hours at the hard, hot, every autoist passing through must expect to be called upon, and to serve or go to jail. These battles may carry the fighters far from their homes. A sudden change of wind, and the momentary are in danger of being trapped by the flames, or of having their homes endangered, with only their women folk at home to conquer the blaze or perish.

Forest fires cause life and property loss, disrupt communication and entail enormous expense. The areas swept of fighters, supplemented by hydro-electrical energy, a power shortage, which may itself bring on unemployment.

But, through it all, "The Thoughtless Fool" goes on unheeding about his work of destroying the last big lumber reserves on this side of the world.

It has reached a point now where being caught might mean lynching.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly's Feather Bed

(Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

(By Howard R. Garis)

Nurse Jane heard a queer noise in Uncle Wiggly's bedroom one morning. It sounded like:

"Ugh! Wump! Gump!"

"Whatever is the matter in there, Wiggly?" she called to the rabbit gentleman. "Has the Fuzzy Fox caught you?"

"Oh no," was the answer. "But I wish the Fuzzy Fox would catch my rheumatism. Oh, such a pain as I have! All night long I have had a pain! Such a hard bed as I have to sleep on!"

"Oh, you poor, dear, old rabbit!" murmured Nurse Jane. "I'm so sorry you have the rheumatism. I'll go over to see Mrs. Wiggly. She is a kind, kind lady and she will give you a lot of her loose feathers. Out of her soft feathers I shall make you such a downy bed that you will not feel your rheumatism pain."

"That will be very kind of you," sighed Uncle Wiggly.

He managed to get up and dress, though he grunted and groaned very much, and he ate some breakfast. By this time Nurse Jane had come back from Mrs. Wiggly's with a bag of feathers and with these she made a soft bed for the rabbit gentleman.

"Now lie down on your feather bed, Uncle Wiggly," she told the bunny, "and rest your weary bones."

"So Uncle Wiggly went back to bed. He had so much pain he could not go adventuring any more. But pretty soon, as Nurse Jane washed the breakfast dishes, she heard Uncle Wiggly laughing in his bed.

"What's the matter?" she asked. "Does your rheumatism pain you so that you have to laugh?"

"My rheumatism is much better, thank you," answered the bunny. "But I have to laugh because some of the feathers in my bed are tickling me! Ho! Ho! Ha! Ha! Teel! Hee!"

"Well, I'm glad you are more cheerful," said Nurse Jane. "As long as you feel better I will go down town and buy a new set of dishes at the seven and eight-cent store."

Away hopped the muskrat lady, and Uncle Wiggly was lying on his new bed, feeling better, and laughing now and then as the feathers tickled him, when all of a sudden, in through the window climbed the Fuzzy Bear.

"Gurr! Gurr!" growled the Bear, looking at the rabbit. "I am glad to find you at home, Uncle Wiggly. I came to nibble your ears. If you had been out I couldn't have nibbled them."

"Then I wish I had gone out," sighed the rabbit, as he jumped out of bed. As he did so some of the loose feathers tickled him. But Uncle Wiggly did not feel much like laughing then, on account of the Bear who wanted to nibble his ears.

But, all of a sudden, Mr. Longears thought:

"If the feather bed tickled me it will tickle the Bear and make him laugh. A laughing Bear can't be nibbled ears. I'll do it!" So, turning to the Bear, Uncle Wiggly said:

"Wouldn't you like to lie down on my nice, new, soft feather bed and rest your weary bones?"

"Indeed I would," growled the Bear. "I am very tired." So he stretched out on the bed, but no sooner was he there than the feathers began to tickle him and the Bear began to laugh. "Ho! Ho! Ha! Ha!"
